JEWS EXPECT FINISH FIGHT
FOR TEL AVIVARABS CAN NOT WIN
UNLESS THEY TAKE
FORTIFIED CITY

By Carter L. Davidson
Jaffa, Palestine, Jan. 14 (AP)—The streets of this all-Arab seaport city are dotted with Syrians, Iraqi and trans-Jordanians mingling with Palestinians awaiting orders to move next door into all-Jewish Tel Aviv.

And over there, the Jews are preparing to welcome the Arabs with grenades and bullets from behind sandbag barricades.

These coastal "Twin" cities are Palestine's most heavily fortified bastions for the conflict which everyone confidently expects is coming. And here's the reason, in the opinion of Jews and Arabs of the two towns:

If full scale civil war comes, the Jews will have lost if Tel Aviv falls; the Arabs never will win until and unless they take it.

Symbol of Zionism

Tel Aviv is the symbol of Jewry in Palestine. It is the one best bet to become at least the provisional capital of the Jewish state to be established under the United Nations' partition decision of Nov. 29.

Jews believe that as long as Tel Aviv stands, partition and Jewish statehood are possible.

Arabs know that as long as Tel Aviv stands there can be no definitely victorious resistance to partition and Jewish statehood.

There is a protective ring of steel around Tel Aviv, put there by the Jews. Every point that faces or lies next to contiguous Jaffa is bristling with gun posts manned by Jewish defenders on fulltime army duty.

Against them are Arab gunposts on all sides but the sea. Residents of Tel Aviv still sit in the sun on terraces overlooking the sea and sip their tea, but when they go across the street they duck and run, because Arabs atop

Pirate Gold Hunted
In Center Of Town;
Street Is Dug Up

Green Cove Springs, Fla., Jan. 14 (AP)—G. B. Mobley continued to supervise work in his search for $4,000,000 in buried pirate gold with the building of a cofferdam to prevent flooding of the excavation which was down 18 feet to day.

Digging with a power shovel was halted temporarily for completion of the dam, with the 80-year-old hunter as confident as ever that the money would be found.

The excavation is in the center of town, and public opinion was still divided over Mobley's chances of success.

City fathers, however, wanted only to see the street put back after the digging is over—and to get a 10 per cent share of any gold or silver found.

Mobley says old residents gave him the tip on the gold nearly 20 years ago and that his diving rod has located it precisely.

Reds Boycott French
Assembly Offices In Fist-Fighting Session

Paris, Jan. 14 (AP)—Communists resumed a bitter fight today for the vice-presidency of the French National assembly, charging that attempts to deprive the largest party in the assembly of the post would be unconstitutional.

Marcel Cachin, the Communist interim chairman of the assembly who suspended the session yesterday when a majority of the deputies attempted to deprive the Communists of the vice-presidency, reconvened its reorganization meeting. Fear had been expressed that he might refuse to do so. The Communists have threatened a boycott of all assembly offices.

The session yesterday had ended in turmoil. Deputies shouted, sang and engaged in fist fights. The meeting was suspended by turning out the lights after non-Communist deputies refused to leave.

Non-Communists have asked France's Socialist president, Vincent Auriol, to help them in their dispute over the division of offices in the more powerful of France's two legislative houses. The final say on the constitutionality of any act of the legislature rests with the assembly itself.

The dispute, in yesterday's reorganization session, centered around the assembly's first vice presidency. The first vice president would become assembly

FEDERAL COURT
FREES PETRILLONo Evidence Found Of Coercion At WAAF
Chicago Station

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—James C. Petrillo today was acquitted on a charge of violating the LEA Act which Congress passed to curb his broad union powers.

Federal Judge Walter J. Labuy, in his written opinion of eight pages, said "there is no evidence whatever in the record to show that the defendant had knowledge of or was informed of the lack of need of additional employees prior to the trial of this case."

The government alleged in its criminal case that Petrillo, head of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, had violated the law by calling a strike to coerce Station WAAF, Chicago, to hire extra help.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 14 (AP)—In a lashing rainstorm, the rescue ship Union Victory arrived in Halifax harbor today, carrying 27 survivors of the U. S. Army transport ship Joseph V. Connolly, which burned at sea Monday.

COST CONTROL
IDEAS STUDIED
BY CONGRESSPROSPECTS DIM FOR ADMINISTRATION
PROPOSALS

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Krug said today that if Congress grants stand-by price control power he immediately will order a 60-day "freeze" of retail and wholesale prices for coal, fuel oil, gasoline and all other petroleum products.

Krug also told the Senate Banking Committee that if the administration is given allocation and rationing authority, he believes it will be necessary to allocate and "possibly" ration fuel oil and gasoline.

Generally speaking, allocation is the dividing up of scarce commodities among suppliers. Rationing is dividing them among consumers.

Krug testified in support of hold-in-reserve power to restore rationing and wage-price controls on a limited basis as Congress received President Truman's annual message on the nation's economy.

The message was sent to the Capitol amid fresh signs that the Republican-dominated Congress intends to spurn the president's anti-inflation program.

From the administration's standpoint, the most important parts of the program are those calling for hold-in-reserve authority to restore rationing and wage-price controls if necessary.

Old Horse Stays
On Chicago Corner,
State and Madison

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—Ald Sandy will be bossing traffic at busy State and Madison streets for another month or two—and sentimental Chicagoans are glad.

Sandy, and 40 other horses of the Mounted Police Patrol, were expected, by this time, to be replaced by new three-wheel motorcycles. However, of 82 cycles on order, only two have been delivered.

When the temporary reprieve ends, Sandy and his mates will be retired to the Bridewell farm, if previous practice is followed.

But, asks Capt. Ted Cregan, chief of the traffic police: "How are you going to keep them down on the farm after they've seen State street?"

Lack of Personnel
Hampers Ann Arbor
Veterans' Center

Lansing, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Michigan Veterans' Rehabilitation Center at Ann Arbor is operating at about 50 per cent of capacity because of a shortage of trained staff personnel.

Elmer J. Hanna, director of the State Office of Veterans' Affairs, said there were 29 veterans receiving mental treatment at the center at the end of December, with 20 others on the waiting list. "The center has a capacity of 50 veterans," Hanna said, "but we can't get the staff to take care of them."

He reported 44 veterans were admitted to the center during December, bringing the total admissions since the institution opened to 246.

Cold, Crisp Dawn
Greets Michigan;
Relief Thursday

By the Associated Press
A night of near zero temperatures gave way to a cold, crisp dawn today as the weather bureau predicted continued low mercury readings in Michigan.

Some relief was forecast for Thursday when the bureau said temperatures should rise slowly. Light snow was expected to follow the cold snap.

Lowest temperature readings early today came from Upper Peninsula points, with Sault Ste. Marie reporting 12 degrees below zero. Calumet had six below and Marquette three.

The temperature stayed above zero in the lower peninsula except at Cadillac where it dropped to one below.

Draft Move Perils
Gen. Ike's Chances
With GOP RegularsBY JACK BELL
(AP) Political Reporter

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may risk any chance for the ultimate backing of regular Republican organizations in several states if he fails to stamp out the independent presidential draft movement now underway.

The army chief of staff has said several times that he has no interest in politics. But thus far he has not otherwise repudiated moves by the draft Eisenhower League to put delegates into a number of GOP primaries.

While this move has the backing in New Hampshire of Senator Charles Tobey, Eisenhower enthusiasts elsewhere seem likely to be drawn from persons outside of and often at odds with the regular GOP organizations in the states concerned.

As a case in point, one Republican in close touch with the situation said privately that Eisenhower has had a better-than-fair chance for darkhorse support from the powerful Pennsylvania Republican organization at the June Philadelphia convention. But, this party member added, the general may forfeit that chance if he does not disavow immediately a move in his behalf there.

This move is headed by N. B. Williams Jr., who has announced that a state of Eisenhower-pledged candidates will be entered in the state's April 27 primary. Williams' group has not always seen eye to eye with the regular organization. And Williams himself was active in behalf of Gov. James H. Duff's primary opponent when Duff was elected governor.

Thus some Pennsylvania politicians say the regular organization which in the past has controlled the state's 73 convention votes, feels less kindly toward Eisenhower than if he had put his foot down on the independent movement.

The Independents contend, however, that the general had small chance of getting this support in any event. They note that if a delegate slate pledged to him is elected, there will be no argument over where the state's vote will go.

Eisenhower supporters have indicated they also may invade the primary field in such states as Illinois, Wisconsin and Nebraska. In few of these are they expected to find the regular party organization receptive.

ALASKAN WRECK
VICTIMS SAVED

Score Of Passengers And Crew Members Rescued
From Small Vessels

Seattle, Jan. 14 (AP)—Two more mid-winter rescues from small Alaska vessels wrecked out to the "westward," in waters west of Kodiak Island and along the Alaska peninsula, have saved survivors of a score of passengers and crew members.

The 15 passengers and crewmen of the Aleutian Mail, all suffering from exhaustion and exposure, were taken off the beach and the grounded vessel by a boat and salvage crew late yesterday, the Coast Guard cutter Cedar Radioed.

The Aleutian Mail had grounded near Arch Point, on Unimak Island, early yesterday, and the self-propelled Army barge BSP 1927, turning to go to its aid also grounded and nearly met disaster. Floating free, the barge's crew of approximately nine men stayed at noon (PST) yesterday that the craft would stay afloat only an hour longer.

Later, however, fishing vessels rescued those aboard and headed for Kings Cove, on the Alaska peninsula. The Army tug Bolster was to attempt salvage of the barge.

Hotel Burns Near
White House; One
Dead, One Injured

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—One person was killed and another injured early this morning in a four alarm hotel fire five blocks from the White House.

The dead man was identified as W. O. Hickox of Cleveland, O. Harold Sill, 49, a resident of the Potomac Hotel's fifth floor, was admitted to Emergency Hospital with second and third degree burns.

Fire officials said the blaze—which was under control a little more than an hour after it started—was confined to the top floor of the old six-story building, which is located on Pennsylvania avenue west of the presidential mansion.

The escape began yesterday when the "water boy" of the prisoner working party offered guard Luther Dowell a drink. The guard was pulled from his horse, his guns taken away, and his legs and arms bound. Dowell soon freed himself and sounded the alarm. He was unhurt.

Soon after the mid-afternoon break the wife of a Negro minister at nearby Sandy Point, Texas, said eight or nine men, armed with a pistol, demanded keys for a car outside her house. When she said she had no keys, they started the vehicle by tampering with the ignition switch.

Tobogganing Kills

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—The second tobogganing accident of its kind in a week today claimed the life of 17-year-old Lawrence Denomme of Mt. Clemens, who died of head injuries.

His toboggan hit a utility pole at a park north of Utica, Mich., Sunday.

The accident occurred one week after Janice Riley, 17 also of Mt. Clemens, was killed in a similar mishap at the same park.

The Senate Armed Services Committee voted against approving a bill to let Kuter retain his military pay and rank while serving as a member of the board.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) said the committee "felt it would establish a precedent to appoint military men to civilian positions."

TRUCE OFFERED FOR JERUSALEM

Old Walled Area May Be Declared Open City
To Halt Bloodshed

Jerusalem, Jan. 14 (AP)—An authoritative source said today the Palestine government has agreed the Christian, Moslem and Jewish religious communities to declare Jerusalem's ancient walled area an "open city" as bloodshed continued in the Arab-Jewish warfare.

A high government authority was reported "nearing a successful conclusion" in negotiations toward this end with religious leaders. The government's request reportedly is that churchmen appeal to their followers to put the old walled city, sacred to all three of the world's main religions, under a permanent truce.

The government was believed to be making a specific appeal to the Jews, since it appeared to be taking the attitude that the terrorist bombs exploded at the Damascus and Jaffa gates to the walled city in recent days were responsible for an Arab siege against the area.

Both Arabs and Jews have honeycombed the old city with defense breastworks, including gun emplacements atop minarets and synagogues.

Snipers' guns blazed sporadically in and around Jerusalem during the morning, killing two persons and wounding at least four others.

Caro Man Gets Life
For Killing Son, 5

Caro, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—Ferris Fessler, 42, today was sentenced to life imprisonment on a second-degree murder charge in connection with the Thanksgiving slaying of his five-year-old son, Patrick.

Sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge George W. Des Jardins of Tuscola county who reduced the charge from first-degree murder after examination of four witnesses and a study of Fessler's testimony. The defendant last Tuesday pleaded guilty to first-degree murder at his arraignment.

The escape began yesterday when the "water boy" of the prisoner working party offered guard Luther Dowell a drink. The guard was pulled from his horse, his guns taken away, and his legs and arms bound. Dowell soon freed himself and sounded the alarm. He was unhurt.

Soon after the mid-afternoon break the wife of a Negro minister at nearby Sandy Point, Texas, said eight or nine men, armed with a pistol, demanded keys for a car outside her house. When she said she had no keys, they started the vehicle by tampering with the ignition switch.

Window; 20 Escape
In Newberry Fire

Newberry, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—Twenty guests fled and one man was forced to cling to a fourth-story window in his underwear in sub-zero weather today when fire destroyed the Northwestern hotel here.

Frank Massey, who went through the ordeal, was rescued on a fire department ladder. The blaze was believed caused by an overheated furnace. Damage to the four-story frame structure was estimated at $17,000.

The 15 volunteer firemen were handicapped by strong winds as well as the frigid temperature.

DANGER SEEN IN INFLATION
BY PRESIDENTWHITE HOUSE CALLS ON BUSINESS TO CUT PRICES

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Truman declared today that American prosperity is riding a "wave of inflation" toward the peril of a "serious" business slump.

Keying his second annual economic report to a renewed plea for legislative power to cope with soaring prices, the chief executive told the Republican-controlled Congress:

"The American people are keenly aware that inflation is the dominant problem in our affairs."

Mr. Truman urged urgent words in demanding once again the full ten-piece kit of anti-inflation tools which the lawmakers refused him during last fall's special session. He asserted that standby price, wage and rationing authority are "needed, needed badly, and needed promptly."

Big Profits Dangerous
In addition to congressional action, the president called upon business to cut prices wherever possible, "foregoing a quick and dangerous excess profit in favor of long-run stability."

And he urged labor to be "moderate" in its third round wage demands.

Nor did he yield any ground on taxes. He insisted that the $7,500,000,000 treasury surplus now in sight for next June 30 must be used to lower the national debt, not cut tax rates as the Republicans are determined to do.

And Mr. Truman repeated his proposal for a $40 a person "cost of living" income tax cut to be made up by higher taxes on corporations.

After reciting record-breaking gains during 1947 in nearly every phase of economic activity, the chief executive forecast "another year of splendid achievement."

But he took alarm as well as pride in the advances. "Unless we as a nation show an ability to impose restraints upon ourselves and to utilize the machinery of our representative government to devise well-considered regulatory measures, we stand in great danger that runaway prices, over-extended credit and unbalanced developments will lead to an economic recession."

"We cannot be sure that such a recession would not be severe and recovery slow and painful."

Goals Set For 1948
Mr. Truman added: "When an inflation is in progress, there is no way of predicting when it will break of its own accord. One can only be certain that, if permitted to run its own course, it will break with destructive force."

The economic report, last of three major White House messages to the new session of Congress, set these national goals for 1948:

1. A three per cent gain in production. Last year's target of five per cent was narrowly missed—seven per cent more goods was turned out but fewer services, such as medical, laundry and the like, were made available.

2. Jobs for 59,000,000 as a year-long average. This is 1,000,000 above the 1947 figure even though last year's June peak topped the so-called "full employment" goal

AWARD $1,800 TO PLAINTIFF

Judgement For Survivors Of Mrs. Wm. Fahey, Accident Victim

Following a trial before Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson, the court ordered a judgment awarding $1,800 in damages to the survivors of Mrs. William (Mae) Fahey, against Victor Kraus of Escanaba. Mrs. Fahey died April 27, 1943, in St. Francis hospital of injuries suffered when she was struck Mar. 22, 1943, by a car driven by Kraus.

Suit against Kraus was brought by Mercedes Duchamp of Iron Mountain, a daughter of the Mrs. Fahey, and administratrix of her mother's estate.

Mrs. Fahey was struck while walking across the intersection of Stephenson and Ludington streets. It was charged in the declaration that Kraus was driving on the wrong side of the street at an excessive speed and in a careless and negligent manner.

The court awarded a judgment of $1,200 for funeral, hospital and other expenses; and a $600 for suffering prior to her death. The plaintiff had asked a judgment of $15,000.

This afternoon the court is scheduled to hear divorces cases.

The hearing of motions for a new trial in the case of Jacob Casper vs. Doris Ralph, both of Garden, has been delayed until next week because of the illness of one of the attorneys.

City Council Will Meet on Thursday

The second reading of the ordinance to establish a city planning commission, members of which have already been tentatively selected, will be held at the meeting of the Escanaba city council Thursday night.

Other matters scheduled for consideration include a report on snow removal costs in this city, a report on plans for the Michigan managers meeting in Jackson on Jan. 28-29-30, and discussion of a new contract with the Escanaba Yacht club for the use of city facilities at the water pumping station.

Rev. Ward Speaks To Kiwanians At Marquette Meeting

Marquette, Jan. 14. — "One of the greatest needs of the world for today is leadership to help us solve the tremendous problems of the times," it was asserted by the Rev. James G. Ward, Escanaba, at the annual dinner-meeting of Kiwanis members and their ladies in the Clifton hotel.

Pointing out some of the important political problems of the day, such as the president's budget and alleged stock market gambling, the Rev. Mr. Ward, pastor of the Episcopal church in Escanaba and also a past lieutenant governor of the Peninsula division of Upper Michigan-Wisconsin Kiwanis International, said there is an urgent need to "lead us on the right path, away from chaos."

"If democracy goes down, then the world will go down with us, much as I am afraid to say it," the Rev. Mr. Ward said.

He said there are two "armies" in the country today—labor and capital, and that when they collide the prices go up. "What we need," he said, "is an understanding between these two great forces, such as Kiwanis teaches us, to solve the problems."

Citing some of the achievements of Kiwanis International last year, the speaker said Kiwanis had indirectly 16,000 members. The present membership is about 2,000 clubs with more than 178,000 members.

Rev. Ward and Conrad Lemmer represented the Escanaba club at the installation dinner.

Parallel Bar Set Received at JHS For Orthopedics

A set of parallel bars to aid handicapped children to walk and learn to walk has been received by the orthopedic unit of the Escanaba special education department.

Three children are now using the metal contrivance along with their regular exercise equipment, under the supervision of Miss Florence Salmon, physical therapist.

Funds for the adjustable walking bars were provided by the Delta County Chapter of Michigan Crippled Children's Fund.

Fish Have Acute Sense of Smell

Chicago—Fish have an acute sense of smell. They can tell the difference between the scents of underwater plants even more sensitively than you can tell the difference between rose and violet perfumes.

At the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here, T. J. Walker, University of Wisconsin zoologist, told of experiments in which he demonstrated how well fish smell. He arranged an aquarium in which two currents of water could be circulated without becoming mixed. Thus it was possible to introduce simultaneously water in which two different species of waterplants had been washed, and let the fish choose between their respective scents.

POTTER TO RUN FOR FULL TERM

Congressman Named To Succeed Fred Bradley

Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan, legless World War II veteran who was elected to Congress in Michigan's 11th district in last summer's special election to name a successor to the late Fred Bradley of Rogers City, will be a candidate to succeed himself in this year's congressional election.

In a recent letter to friends in the district, Potter said "it takes a certain amount of time to become oriented to the duties of the office. I have enjoyed working for the 11th district during the brief period I have held the office and I sincerely hope the voters will allow me to stay another term during which I can be of more value and service to the district."

Potter won the Republican nomination in a field of seven candidates in last summer's primary and then went on to win easily over the Democratic nominee, Harold Beaton of St. Ignace.

Missionary Friend Of Rev. and Mrs. Anderson Killed

Miss Martha J. Anderson, of Minneapolis, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Adolph G. Anderson, of that city, and a friend of Rev. and Mrs. John Anderson, of Escanaba, and other Upper Peninsula families, was killed by bandits in China, it was learned, through headquarters of the Evangelical Mission Covenant church in Chicago.

Miss Anderson, who spent several days in Upper Michigan while on furlough in 1945, was one of three missionaries stationed in Siangyang, Hopeh province, China. The other two were Esther Nordlund of Youngstown, Ohio and Dr. Alec Berg whose address is unknown.

After a furlough of nearly two years, the young missionary worker returned to China last August. Hopeh province has been a center of much fighting between Communist and Nationalist troops in China. Miss Anderson has previously served six and one-half years at this same mission.

She was a graduate of Minnehaha academy of Minneapolis and North Park college in Chicago, and was a member of the Minneapolis Salem Covenant church. Besides her parents she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. LeRoy Cannon and Eva, at home, and two brothers, George of Alexandria, Minn., and Paul, of Minneapolis.

Full details of the tragedy have not been released.

Boy, 7, Is Injured In Auto Accident

CITY BICYCLE TAGS ON SALE

New Plates Have Same Color Scheme As Auto Licenses

City bicycle licenses for 1948 are now on sale at the police station, Sgt. Phil Bruce has announced.

The tags are aluminum background with black numerals conforming to the same color combination used by the state of Michigan for automobile license plates. A supply of 2500 tags are on hand at the police station, enough to meet the requirements for the year. Last year 1883 licenses were issued, the highest number in several years but not approaching the record 2040 licenses issued in 1942.

All bicycles operated in the city are required to be equipped with license tags under the city bicycle ordinance. A title to the vehicle is necessary to secure a license, which costs twenty-five cents.

Keweenaw Waterway Nearly Completed

Jacobsville, Mich.—Within two or three years most of the big lake freighters may be passing this tiny former quarrying site on their way through Portage lake to Duluth, rather than going around the bleak Keweenaw peninsula.

The peninsula's Manitou island area is one of the worst spots on the route from the St. Mary's river to Duluth. Numerous sunken hulks mark the end of ill starred around the point runs.

The federal project for a waterway through the Keweenaw peninsula, adopted by congress in 1935, is 75% completed. The entire Portage lake area has been dredged to a width of 300 feet or more and a minimum depth of 25 feet. When the entire project is finished it is expected that Portage lake will be a much used thoroughfare. About 500 vessels now pass Hancock and Houghton each navigation season.

Stockholders of the bank met Tuesday to appoint the directors, all of whom were reelected, after which the directors met to select officers for the year.

Directors are Charles E. Lewis, Charles W. Stoll, Dr. Harold Q. Groos, John A. Lemmer and William Warmington.

Newly elected officers are: William Warmington, president; Charles E. Lewis, vice president; C. R. Wickman, cashier; E. O. Perron, N. P. Jensen, Harry J. Gruber, Andrew P. Johnson, and Arnold E. Warmington succeeds the late A. J. Young as president of the State Bank. He joined the staff of the bank Dec. 1, 1921 as assistant cashier, coming to Escanaba from Houghton where he was cashier of the Citizens National Bank. He was elevated to cashier in 1924 and five years ago was elected vice president of the bank.

He also is second vice president of the Michigan Bankers association, a member and past president of the Escanaba board of education, treasurer of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of the newly created city planning commission.

Wickman has been employed at the State Bank continuously since 1912, except for a period in which he served in the U. S. Army during World War I. He was appointed assistant cashier in 1924. He is secretary of the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross, treasurer of the local chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and secretary of the board of vestry of St. Stephens Episcopal church.

Other directors named were Coleman Nee, J. P. Norton, Juel Lee and M. N. Smith. The directors will meet later to elect officers of the bank.

Directors of the First National Bank were reelected at Tuesday's meeting of the stockholders. They are Leslie French, James E. Frost, Charles Gessner, Louis Groos and Carl G. Nelson. Officers will be named at a directors' meeting later this week.

Dr. M. H. Garrard Expands Service

Dr. M. H. Garrard, Jr., optometrist, who has practiced in Escanaba for the past 14 months announces that he has expanded his practice to include Dr. Neal J. Bailey, and together they are combining to form the Escanaba Optometric Center. The center will occupy the same premises, at 814 Ludington, in which Dr. Garrard has been located, but the office space has been increased by four new rooms, and much modern equipment has been added.

The Escanaba Optometric Center will now offer contact lens service and visual training in addition to the present refraction and fitting. It is the first office in the Upper Peninsula to have a thoroughly equipped laboratory for contact lens work in addition to the present facilities for lens grinding, mounting, and repairs. According to the two optometrists, patients in need of eye correction, can now be offered eye muscle exercises in their new visual training program.

Dr. Neal Bailey, formerly of Ionia, is a graduate of Ohio State University School of Optometry, as is also Dr. Garrard. He also did some work at the University of

Paper Mill Problem

CANADA'S ANNOUNCED INTENTION of gradually reducing exports of pulpwood from Ontario to the point that exports of spruce, balsam, fir and jackpine would end completely in 10 years has brought forth protests mingled with genuine fears by the American paper industry.

Paper mills of Wisconsin and Michigan are particularly apprehensive about Canada's plans for reducing pulpwood exports because most of them are dependent upon the Canadian supplies. Some of the American companies have invested heavily in logging equipment and camps in Canada and these investments would be severely jeopardized if not lost if pulpwood exports were prohibited. Even worse, the American mills would have to drastically reduce production. Some would probably have to close entirely.

American interests are pleading with Canadian officials to revise their plans, but only time will tell how effective the American pleas can be. The Canadians, of course, want to preserve their pulpwood supplies for their own paper mills and they can hardly be blamed for that.

The situation once again points to the need for vast reforestation to sustain our industries. Obviously we are moving all too slowly in this direction.

The President's Budget

THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET proposals submitted to Congress this week, offered no great surprises. In general, the president repeated the same kind of program that he has previously offered, including a number of costly schemes that have either been already defeated in Congress or cast aside for lack of support.

Last year when the president submitted his budget message, he predicted a surplus of only $202,000,000 in the present fiscal year. The 1947-48 surplus is now estimated at $7,482,000,000, the largest surplus in the nation's history. Despite this fact, the president still says that there can be no tax reduction for the American people. True enough, Mr. Truman proposes a flat $400 reduction for all individuals but insists that it should be offset by a proportionate increase in corporation taxes. The corporations, of course, would merely pass the increase right back to the consumers, the American people, so what Mr. Truman proposes is simply fund-juggling.

The enormity of the federal budget even under most rigid conditions of economy is staggering. Much of it, of course, is unavoidable. Such items as interest on the national debt, national defense, veterans' administration expenses, all connected with war or protection of the peace, must be met and they represent more than half of the total budget. Some of the other items, however, logically are subject to the closest scrutiny and it is certain that a portion of the president's proposals will be side-tracked.

The Old Age

THE OLD AGE assistance case lead in Michigan has dropped by about 3,000 since the legislature amended the law to allow the state to recover from the estates of deceased recipients for aid given to the latter.

W. J. Maxey, state social welfare director, estimates that this decline in the state lead will mean a saving of about one million dollars annually to Michigan taxpayers.

The amendment apparently is serving its purpose of forcing children to assume their obligations to their aged parents rather than passing on the responsibility to the taxpayers. After all, the old age assistance law was not intended to give pensions automatically to those who have attained the age of 65, the same as a pension fund to which wage and salary earners contribute. The state law was intended to assist aged persons who have no means of earning their own livelihood and have no relatives to look to for their support. The argument that it penalizes old folks who have saved and practiced self-denial in order to accumulate a home and other property is irrelevant to the administration of the law as written and adopted by the legislature.

The Same Old Hurdle

AS A MEMBER of the American delegation, Harold E. Stassen played an important part in the San Francisco conference of 1945, which produced the United Nations Charter. Since then, he has shown many times that his interest in the organization's success is as keen as his knowledge of it is intimate. So his views and opinions on the UN deserve attention.

A few days ago, Mr. Stassen proposed that the United States call a UN convention in 1950 to amend the Charter and strengthen the organization itself. He, like most of us, wants to see the single-power veto ended, and world control and inspection of atomic-energy facilities established. He wants to see the UN set up its own police force, and he favors world law to cover human rights and special problems. For the two intervening years, Mr. Stassen suggests a five-point program—"continued success of our free economy in America"; a follow-through on the Marshall Plan without bi-partisan "quibbling or politics"; a strong military position with increased air power and research; no more exports to Russia, which might form part of a war machine; and a world-wide campaign of ideas to combat Russian propaganda.

All this seems fine, except for one plaguing, familiar question: How is the UN going to abolish the veto? That is the first and last hurdle that blocks any effort toward major Charter reform. No sooner does the reformer start galloping toward his goal, than he checks up short at this obstacle. For Russia can veto any attempt to ban the veto.

If Mr. Stassen has an idea of how the obstacle can be avoided, he should come out with it now—not two years from now. The weakness of the UN, like the weakness of western Europe, is a present danger.

Mr. Stassen's interim plan is primarily a domestic program. His plan for strengthening the UN is a world program. There seems no reason why the two cannot be carried on side by side—if only the veto hurdle can be cleared.

If it cannot be, then almost certainly there will not be agreement on atomic energy. There will be no world law, for Russia defies state sovereignty.

So long as Russia can veto the world's will, there may be civil war in Greece and China, and communal strife in Palestine and India. Secret research for atomic war will go on. The UN will have no recognized law or authority to enforce its decisions.

The best proposal that we have seen for bypassing the veto would enforce decisions on matters threatening the peace through a treaty of the majority of UN members. This seems possible under the "collective self-defense" clause of the Charter. Such a treaty would need only a two-thirds vote to become effective.

This promises only a partial solution, but it is better than none. And it is a way out that might well be taken up by the "Little Assembly" in its present first sessions. If even a partial solution can be found, there is no reason to wait until 1950 to start looking for it.

DISABLED OFFICERS

(Marquette Mining Journal)

Long before the Bennett Meyers affair focused public attention on it, there was considerable discussion as to whether the armed services had not been too liberal in retiring regular officers on disability before they were put back to their permanent ranks after the war.

President Truman's military aide, Major General Harry M. Vaughan, has used the word "rocket" in this connection. Whether it's as bad as that or not is now the subject of two investigations. One of them, made by the Army-Navy personnel board, has resulted in two recommendations designed to correct abuses that may have been committed.

Disability retirement was advantageous to the officer because it provided for three-quarters non-taxable pay at the rank he held on retirement. Ordinary retirement is based on permanent, not war-time rank—and is taxable.

The personnel board's recommendation calls for re-examination of some 30,000 now on disability retirement and periodic examination thereafter. It would also adopt the practice used for enlisted men; disability would not be declared "total," but would be graduated according to actual disability.

This ought to catch those not entitled to a total disability rating and yet be fair to those who are. Anyway, there is no good reason why an officer should enjoy a retirement privilege denied to an enlisted man.

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Q. Occasionally we have fun playing with our ouija board. We believe it is named for its inventor, a Dr. Ouija. Right?

A. Sorry, no. The inventor, whoever he was, coined the name ouija from the French oul, "yes," and German ja, "yes." So, literally the plaything is a "yes-yes" board.

Q. What is the origin of the term "Sanforized" in connection with materials?

A. Sanforize describes a process to prevent shrinking. It was patented by Sanford L. Cluett, and the term is coined from his first name.

Q. Is there a story behind the word umbrella? It doesn't look English to me.

A. Indeed there is a story. Umbrella is a diminutive of the Italian ombra, "shade"; hence, "a little shade." The word parasol came into English from the French, from the Italian, from the Latin parare, "to ward off," plus sole, "the sun."

Thus we see that we have no word in English that names a device to be carried to protect one from the rain. There is such a word in French: parapluie (parry rain). It is strange that when we borrowed umbrella and parasol we did not also adopt parapluie.

However, we did adopt the French para-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILLS

Washington.—Gone are the days of bafflement and backfire. Gone are the days of the scorching summer, when the youthful-looking Howard Hughes refused to stay east in the role of villain and insisted on becoming the hero of the piece.

This time the Senate Republicans, with super-sleuth Homer Ferguson in the lead, have struck pay dirt. Cast as villain in this show is Edwin W. Pauley.

Pauley is a "speculator." What's more, he's an "insider." And so the plot spins merrily out and the headlines spell P-O-L-I-T-I-C-S in letters of fire.

When Harold Stassen testified before the Senate committee, he did not fail to point out an interesting relationship. At about the time last August when Pauley was making one of his grain deals, he had some guests on his island in the Hawaiian group that bears the happy name of Coconut Island International. His guests were Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and the then Postmaster General Robert Hannegan and their families.

What a wonderful name: Coconut Island International. What a picture it conjures up—the palm-fringed shore, the long white line of the surf, a breeze-swept veranda, a mess boy in immaculate jacket with a tray of long, cool drinks.

Parlor, Spider and Fly
This is in a familiar pattern. It is the pattern of the gilded parlor into which the spider invites the fly. There are Long Island estates, western hunting lodges, sumptuous New York apartments that qualify as gilded parlors, as elegant booby traps.

Both Anderson and Hannegan say that, during their brief stay on Coconut Island International, no discussion of commodities and prices took place. How could anything as harsh and materialistic have crept into that gentle atmosphere? For the purposes of politics, of course, their disclaimer makes little difference. Such disclaimers, however earnest, carry little weight with the public. Coconut Island International is said to be a club. Members may belong on approval. Presumably, the expenses of maintaining this club on a tropical isle are tax deductible as a business expense.

This, too, is in the pattern of the gilded parlor. The palm-fringed shore is deductible. The surf is deductible. So is the mess boy with the tall drinks and so are the drinks.

Stassen testified that Pauley made a million dollars out of his speculation in commodities. Out of a million dollars you could charge a great deal off to expenses for Coconut Island. This would be money that would otherwise go into the treasury of the United States in the form of income tax.

INCOME TAX SECRECY

An echo comes from an era of long ago, when certain reformers had the curious notion that income tax returns should be open to public inspection. They are today kept in strictest secrecy. Even a committee of Congress must get special dispensation to examine the tax return of an individual under investigation.

There are some valid reasons why this should be so. But there are also reasons why the public is entitled to the facts, particularly if taxpayers in the million-or-more-a-year bracket are using the method of tax deduction to finance luxurious retreats for the purpose of winning friends and influencing people.

In a sense, this is a far more important question than the one the Ferguson committee has undertaken to explore. No one has presented any evidence to show that Pauley received information to which he was not entitled. His conduct appears to have been perfectly legal.

It may be, of course, that the committee's real intention is not yet clear. They may be aiming at fundamental reforms which would prevent speculation and plunging on a scale that in itself tends to push the market up or down.

But in the present state of affairs, the suspicion prevails that this is a familiar form of election year charade. The committee is acting out the word, VIRTUE. The technique is to find a victim at whom the finger of shame can be pointed.

Often in the past such charades have been useful to those who staged them. A preface to the New Deal was an investigation into the shenanigans of bankers and brokers during the boom of the twenties. That helped to create the intellectual climate of 1932 and after.

Whether any practical good comes out of this election year antic is open to question. Usually the charade is forgotten as memory of the headline fades.

chute, which means literally "parry fall." Chute is the French word for fall, which explains its use in our name for the shoot the chutes (shoot the falls).

We also see that the term paratroops actually means "parry troops." Parry, of course, means "to ward off; to turn aside."

The para- of parasite, however, has the meaning of "beside, alongside of." The origin of parasite is the Greek parasitos, "eating beside"; hence, originally, a person who eats at another's table, or, to use an American slang expression, a sponger; hence any animal or plant that lives by taking nourishment from its host.

Having trouble using shall-will and should-would correctly? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-4, will help you.

MAN AND LAW—Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone at the opening of circuit court in Escanaba Monday morning expressed his appreciation for the good wishes extended him by the citizens of the county. At that time he also took the opportunity to speak of the law and its application. "Barring customs and traditions, our laws are but an implication of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule," he said. "These were sufficient for the primitive peoples of that age, but as populations increased, trade and industry developed, it became necessary to supplement them with further laws to govern each new activity."

MYRIAD LAWS—"When the wandering tribes settled down and built fixed habitations, the elements of real estate law began. When people began to barter and trade with each other and with other peoples, the law merchant or commercial law arose. When the relationship of Lord and Serf gave way to master and servant, or employer and employee, then a new field of law arose to govern such activities.

"As civilization progressed and man's activities multiplied, new situations constantly arose, creating new fields of law, until today we have such myriad of laws that no mind can encompass all of them."

LAW: TWO CLASSES—"Getting down to modern times, we have two classes of law, Common Law and Statutory Law," Judge Jackson continued. "The Common Law arose out of the decisions of the Judges, in an endeavor to establish fixed rules and property rights to guide people in their paths of life.

"From time to time it was found that no fixed rule would always produce justice. As new situations arose, they brought about modifications and exceptions to the old rules and the creation of new fields of law.

"In a general way, these were the enunciation of definite rules drawn from customs of the people to accord with common sense and man's idea of justice between him and his fellows.

"Roughly, statutory laws are rules promulgated by the Government. In our country they were promulgated by the Constitutional Conventions and laws enacted by our chosen representatives."

A LIVING THING—"Up until the beginning of the present century, there had been a gradual evolution and growth of the law. But due to the unprecedented expansion along mechanical, industrial, commercial and social lines, laws have multiplied to meet each new activity, until they are almost beyond the power of human conception.

"The law is a living, growing thing, required to meet every mechanical, industrial, commercial and social development.

"Whether we realize it, or not, law is as necessary to our existence as the air we breathe and the food we eat."

BODY OF THE LAW—"The law is of human creation and therefore not perfect. There may be many individual laws that you and I do not like. Yet, the wonder is that the Legislatures and the courts have done so well. We live in a country ruled by law, which has been made by those chosen directly or indirectly by the people. As to our criticisms of some of these laws, we may be right or wrong. Even if some of the laws may not be what we think they should, we must abide by them. If every person can disregard a law he does not like, then the entire system can break down and our property, our lives, our liberty, may become imperiled.

"While there may be certain laws that are subject to just criticism, the great body of the law is sound and just and we must uphold and defend it as absolutely essential to our daily life and welfare."

POWER FOR GOOD—"While the field of the law is wide and varied as human activities can be, the wonder is that, immersed in and surrounded by this vast mechanism of the law, it demands only an insignificant activity upon the part of the courts.

"In this judicial circuit, with a population of over 155,000, only a small percentage of the people ever get into the Courts, Civil or Criminal.

"The courts and the officers exercise a potential power, a thousand times greater than that which comes before them. Why does a man pay his just obligations? Because there are lawyers, courts and officers who can compel him to do so."

"The arrest and conviction of one man may prevent numerous others from committing the same offense."

"The value of a policeman or a fireman cannot be measured by what they actually do, but by their potential value to you and yours.

"As the laws are made by human beings, so they are administered by human beings, and subject to the imperfections to which we humans are subject."

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

Washington, (AP)—Refusing to answer questions is just one way of getting in trouble with Congress.

Another way is to tie your horse to a tree in the nation's capital. Congress says you mustn't do it.

Of course each year there are fewer and fewer saddle-sore citizens who arrive here aboard old Dobbin and flout Congress by anchoring him to an elm.

But there are plenty of other things a man can do and unwittingly finds himself in contempt of the national legislature, which passes all the laws affecting life in the District of Columbia.

These statutes aren't listed in the guidebooks. And there are so many of them that a cautious visitor to be certain of keeping out of trouble, might do well to check with his congressman before adventuring about here in the land of the whereas and the home of the be it resolved.

Fine For Kite Flying
Otherwise he might decide to go out and fly a kite some windy day and learn that Congress long ago decreed a $10 fine for kite flyers here. There is no penalty, however, for floating a trial balloon.

Or a conscientious but thirsty tourist could find himself in difficulty here merely by insisting he could stand up in a public place and buy a drink. He can't. Congress says you have to drink sitting down.

Checking into Congressional statutes still in effect from bygone days, the Washington Star found that Congress not only won't let you tie a horse to a tree. It also sternly forbids you to ride the animal on the sidewalk. And furthermore, it will sock you $5 if you deliberately sic a dog on another dog—or on a Senator, for that matter.

Suppose you bounce out of bed one morning feeling so good you decide, "I think I'll go fight a bull." Don't do it, mister. Congress has a five-year jail term waiting for guys who fight bulls. Why, heck, a man can even be sent up for a year just for docking a horse's tail.

Congress won't let buildings here rise above fourteen stories. It makes a weed illegal if it grows more than four inches high.

You can't go watch an execution if you're under 21, and Congress won't let you hire out any of your children under fourteen years "as an acrobat, contortionist or rope-walker." The statute provides no penalty at any age for fence-sitting.

No Dueling
A few other tips to guide the wary visitor who doesn't want to offend Congress during his stay here:

Don't collect bird's eggs without a special permit.

Don't walk down Pennsylvania avenue carrying a woodcock—dead or alive—between Jan. 1 and July 1 or it will cost you $5. The rest of the year it's okay.

Be careful never to challenge anyone to duel as the penalty is ten days in jail. But be even more careful about wearing the insignia of the Daughters of the American Revolution—if you're not a member. They can jail you for thirty days on that charge—if you can't pay the $20 fine.

And you won't have to run forever to find a cop. Congress says no fireman or policeman can live more than twelve miles from the capitol building. That's the law!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note: This is the second of Drew Pearson's columns on the most important problem facing the country—the danger of war with Russia.)

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Some observers have come back from Europe recently saying that the cold war has been won. I do not agree.

Russian-inspired Communism, it is true, has taken some severe jolts in France and Italy, where attempted strikes, riots and revolution failed. But they already are being revived. And everyone who knows the Soviet system also knows that when the boys in the Politburo take a defeat on one front it only increases their determination to score victory on another.

So not only will they take more and tougher punches at France and Italy, but already Soviet preparations for eventual we-don't-know-what have intensified in other areas.

Meeting with a group of senators not long ago, chief of the Air Forces Gen. "Toothy" Spaatz revealed:

1. The Red army now has taken over German jet-plane plants and developed jet-propelled planes which are faster than those built by the U. S. Army.

2. The Russians have improved on the German buzz-bomb to a point where they now are producing a deadly controlled missile that will travel between 1,700 and 1,800 miles, whereas the imperfectly controlled German buzz-bombs merely flew across the English Channel.

3. The Russians, according to General Spaatz, have complete information about the location, size and production capacity of every air plant in the United States, to say nothing of landing fields, control towers and other aviation facilities.

RUSSIA PREPARES FOR WAR

Even if we assume that General Spaatz was subject to the usual exuberance of a military man, the fact is inescapable that at the last Russian military maneuvers, six new types of jet planes were flown in view of foreign military attaches—the Ilyushin, Yakovlev, Sukhov, Tupolev and Lavochkin, and Mikoyan.

It is also a fact that French, Italian, and German war prisoners released from Russia all tell the same story—of feverish war production behind the Ural Mountains; of demobilized Soviet troops instructed to remain under military supervision to work in munitions factories because a new war is impending—the last great inevitable conflict between Communism and the forces of Fascism.

It is also a fact that most German prisoners are being kept in Russia to work in these factories and that only prisoners no longer fit for physical labor are being returned to Germany.

Reliable intelligence reports also tell of intensive air-base building in Eastern Siberia with 51 fields in that general area, six being on the Bering Sea nearest Alaska. It is also known that the Russians now have acquired and perhaps refined all the secrets of the German submarine, including the Nazi "Snorkle." This is a device allowing subs to run constantly under water, without coming up to the surface to recharge batteries. Toward the end of the war the Germans had rubberized their subs so that radar could not detect them, had installed miraculous new motors and were using canvas breathers which extend just above the water and are extremely hard to see.

All of these secrets the Russians now have, and some of their 256 submarines have been sighted around Greenland, Kiska and only 300 miles from Pearl Harbor.

These are some of the belligerent preparations on Moscow's side which worry the United States.

U. S. PREPARES ALSO

On the other hand, certain military preparations in the United States probably are causing worry in Moscow.

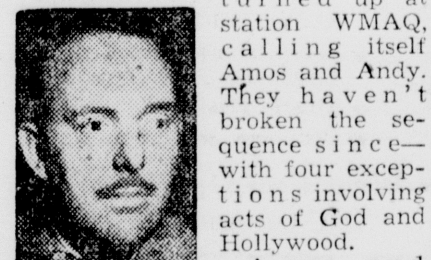

Last summer, for instance, Secretary of the Army Royall released a report calling for the use of natural caverns and abandoned mines for underground aircraft factories in the United States. And while Secretary Royall would have been remiss had he not warned of the need for protecting air factories, and while U. S. military preparations are far less offensive than the Russians

AMOS AND ANDY ARE STILL TOPS

Blackfaced Comedians Got Radio Start 22 Years Ago

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—Twenty-two years ago today a black-face team calling itself Sam 'n' Henry began broadcasting a Negro dialect show at station WGN in Chicago, and thereby became immortal.

Ruark

Two years later, after considerable copyright trouble, the team turned up at station WMAQ, calling itself Amos and Andy. They haven't broken the sequence since—with four exceptions involving acts of God and Hollywood. Amos and Andy—Freeman Gosden and Charlie Correll—were unusual in many respects. They have never had a contract between them, and they have been associated since 1920. They have hung onto their public since radio was a squawking infant, and still rank among the top five programs.

They are credited, by their rivals in a hateful business, as being near perfection in their field. They have remained fresh despite 22 years and 10 million words, which approaches forty volumes of gone with the you know what, hooked endways. They have been more important to radio than Marconi, more vital to toothpaste than Bob Hope, more important to soap than Campbell, more necessary to soap than Chuck Luckman. Together with Bing Crosby, they have a clear field to immortality in radio.

But most amazing is their continued ability to sell a dialect show in times which have become so ticklish and edgy that the wondrous Negro characters of Octavius Roy Cohen and Roark Bradford have been tacitly banned from the magazines, and even Uncle Remus is accused of Uncle Tomism.

I can remember when the picture shows—we called them picture shows then—stopped showing at 7 p. m. on week nights in order to bring Amos and Andy to the patrons. Charles Dawes once regretfully accepted an appointment as ambassador to England because it meant no Amos and Andy. Gosden and Correll bit their initials so deeply on the nation's neck that a great deal of our slang is still fresh out of their scripts.

Huey Long cast around for a title, and could do no better than "Kingfish," the name of the pompous big operator played by Gosden. A big, busy lady of middle years is still called Madame Queen. "Check and Double Check," "Sho, Sho," "Un-lax," "Ise Regusted," and "Propalation," for "Proposition," are still listed in the language, after 20 years. "Ise Regusted," in particular, was a key word to the times, because it was minted during the big bust, when everybody was regusted.

No Smut Used
The show, as ever, still remains a sort of miracle in a business where all the funny people are straining to gouge applause out of the audience. Amos and Andy don't wheedle handclaps by sotto-voice cracks about the lousiness of the script writers when a joke falls down and dies. They get by on story alone. The show has never depended on oblique reference to smut or to edged comments about the competition. Stories based on gambling, drinking, divorce and religion are out. As a concession to the rising resentment of humor based on Negro dialect, any crook that cavorts in the script must be white. Gosden and Correll—and there is nobody in the 'Unistates' with the exception of Gosden and Correll's families who can tell me right now which guy plays which character—have used a succession of hired writers. But they wind up doing most of the dialog themselves. Charlie Correll even types the finished script.

They are punctual gents who work on a split-minute schedule and who carry very little ham into their business. They work harder now on the once-weekly 30-minute show than they used to toil over a whole week's running soap opera. They knocked out a daily stint, in those days, in half-an-hour, with Gosden playing as many as 160 characters, including Madame Queen.

The boys are jumping into television soon, and, bar accident, are probably good for another 22 years. The talent comes and the talent goes, but I expect to be soaking up Crosby's "White Christmas" and the doings of Amos and Andy when I am old and gray. Or, to be exact, old and bald. Or balder.

Concrete Blocks Made With Color

Franklin Ind., (U. P.)—Dan Patterson claims to have developed the first practical method for the mass production of concrete building blocks in color. Patterson provides building blocks in any color or color combination in 50 different designs. The colors and designs are incorporated in the concrete itself.

NEW HALF DOLLAR—The first new 50-cent piece since 1916, except for special issues, this new coin is now being minted for nationwide issuance soon. and not painted on. Patterson developed the process after two years of experimentation. The inventor said the blocks sell for approximately twice the price of standard concrete blocks.

Civic Theatre Open For New Members; Meeting Thursday

Civic Theatre of Escanaba, now planning a three-act comedy to be produced in March, is open for membership and all persons interested in theatre work are invited to attend the meeting Thursday night at eight o'clock in Junior high school.

The dramatic organization has been active in the city for several years but was discontinued during the war. The last stage production was the "Queen's Husband." Last year the group reorganized and were heard weekly in a series of 18 weekly radio broadcasts on their "Thursday at Eight" program.

"Not only those who can act are needed in a theatre organization," stated Mary Vaughan, president of Civic Theatre. "It takes many to produce a play, including stage workers for lighting, properties, scenery and make-up."

This year, in addition to its production of the two radio dramas by Richard Morenus, Civic Theatre will present "Three Cornered Moon," by Gertrude Tonnogony. The three act comedy was produced successfully on Broadway by Richard Aldrich and Alfred de Haire, starring Ruth Gordon, (Kiss and Tell) Brian Donlevy and Richard Whorf.

Later in the season the dramatic group will present a series of bi-weekly radio dramas.

Movie Writer Starts 'Silent Guest' Idea

By MARC J. PARSONS

New York (NEA)—Iris Gabriel, who looks a lot like Ann Harding and once hoped to build a career of her own in the movies, has a much bigger job today.

She has dedicated herself to world peace. In the next few months she hopes to line millions of other women around the world behind her ideas.

This month she leaves for Europe as a member of the One World Commission. Before she is through she hopes to carry her message to Asia and South America too.

"I feel very deeply that technical discoveries are out of balance with moral and spiritual values in the world today," she says.

"If there is an X factor that can restore the proper balance, it is women—women participating in world affairs."

Miss Gabriel herself only became vitally interested in the world at large a few years ago. Before that she was more intent on a glamor career.

"I was out of balance myself then," she says.

Raised on a Georgia plantation, she was a beauty queen by the time she was 18 and had made and lost a fortune in Florida real estate. Broke, she decided to try the movies. Talkies were just coming in and her southern accent blocked her. So she went back to school to study speech and dramatics.

When it looked like she was to get her big break in Hollywood, she was critically injured in an accident. One of her lungs was crushed and she was bed-ridden for several years.

After her recovery, the late Irving Thalberg offered her a new chance. But Thalberg died before the picture got into production. Max Reinhardt then cast her in one of his movies but the picture was shelved and she was out again.

She broke into radio in Hollywood and from there got several small parts in the movies when she decided to try the stage in New York. After three successive appearances in productions that failed, she gave up and returned to school, this time at the University of Chicago. There her health gave way again and she spent two more years bed-ridden.

After her recovery she returned to Hollywood as a writer for radio and the movies. It was there, during the war, that she decided her life was as unbalanced as the world was.

A friend recommended her to the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom and she went to work for that group.

"After six months I felt that all peace efforts would be ineffective as long as people were hungry. Nothing would work unless we could guarantee people enough bread."

Last fall she hit upon the "Silent Guest" idea.

"Every American was to entertain a silent guest at his or her dinner table. The money that it would have cost to feed this guest would go to feed hungry Europeans.

Governor Bradford of Massachusetts got the governors of the other 47 states behind us as a special honorary committee. Basil Harris, chairman of the U. S. Lines, organized the businessmen and contributions poured in.

"Every penny of it went to Europe to feed the hungry."

Jacques Ferrand, executive secretary of the One World Award Committee, was looking for several people to take the place of the late Fiorello H. LaGuardia, winner of its 1947 award, to carry peace messages abroad. He wanted at least one member of the commission to be someone with "grass roots," who had done something for others. Miss Gabriel seemed to fill the bill.

She was named to the commission a few weeks ago, together with Mrs. LaGuardia and Prof. Emily Greene Balch, 1946 Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Fritz Von Unruh, internationally known writer and peace worker, will make a special trip to Germany for the Commission. Mrs. Balch expects to concentrate her work in the Scandinavian countries. Mrs. LaGuardia, if she makes the trip, will go to Italy and perhaps Czechoslovakia.

But Miss Gabriel plans to reach every country in Europe that she can get into, plus Palestine and North Africa. She's just getting started.

Sleeping Sickness Afflicts Many Dogs

Chicago.—A warning to dog owners to watch out for signs of "sleeping sickness," or encephalitis, in their pets was issued by the American Veterinary Medical Association here.

The disease may be responsible for a great many of the dog losses heretofore attributed to distemper. It is caused by a virus that affects the brain and nervous system. Distemper is also caused by a virus, and the symptoms are similar. But treatment for the two diseases is different.

Anti-encephalitis serum is effective treatment in the early stages of the disease. Vaccination to prevent the disease is "still in the experimental stage," the association stated.

Encephalitis has been found in specimens from widely scattered sections of the country and is believed, on the basis of recent research, to be much more prevalent than heretofore realized.

SLAYERS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCES

Red-Haired Woman And Youth To Pay For Ambush Killing

Lansing (P)—Sentences of life imprisonment were imposed Tuesday on Mrs. Josephine M. Upton and Richard H. Gorman, found guilty of first degree murder in the ambush slaying of Mrs. Upton's husband, Frank, last August.

The red-haired Mrs. Upton, comely in a tight-fitting blue sweater, and Gorman, a 16-year-old word at the Detroit St. Vincent De Paul Society, showed little emotion as the mandatory life sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge Charles H. Hayden. Both said they had nothing to say when queried before sentencing.

"There never was a more clear-cut case of premeditated murder," said Judge Hayden in pronouncing sentence. "You have been given every break and should go away without bitterness."

"Even now I don't think you realize what you have done," said the judge. "There is no question but you planned this for a long time. To me your purpose was apparent."

Addressing Mrs. Upton, Judge Hayden said: "I don't believe that your husband threatened you with death. To me that appears pure fiction. Neither do I believe that a knife was found near your husband's body."

"I still believe that Richard feels himself in the role of a hero," said the judge, turning to young Gorman. "Neither of you have shown any indication of remorse."

Mrs. Upton was sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction and Gorman to the state prison of Southern Michigan. Only a governor's commutation of sentence or a change in the state penal laws can change their sentences of life imprisonment.

Quiet Of Wilderness Not Important Item To State Air Board

By James A. O. Crowe

Lansing, Jan. 14 (P)—The State Aeronautics Commission made a far-reaching decision last week that passed with little notice, but it was important to everyone who values the quiet of Michigan's woods and waters.

The commission received a letter from R. L. Ballard, president of the Flint chapter of the Izaak Walton League, in which he asked consideration of the closing of some of the wilderness areas of the state to flying. The request probably was prompted by just such action in Minnesota where the roar of aircraft was banned from some of the remote lake and forest regions.

Ballard was not present at the meeting, but aeronautics director Floyd E. Evans reported with a hint of patronization that the Izaak Walton League probably "wanted to sit and smoke their pipes and listen to the fish biting." His tone indicated he considered this a little ridiculous.

There are people in Michigan who think he could get an argument on just how ridiculous that is. However, apparently there was no one who thought so on the commission, for with a certain loftiness and little discussion, it was voted to turn down the request.

Evans was instructed to so inform Ballard and to explain that the commission felt that such a prohibition would impede the expansion of Michigan's air program.

The importance some people attach to keeping unspoiled such areas as the Porcupine Mountains and wilderness state parks and the Tahquamenon Falls, the prohibition of automobiles on Mackinac Island, the uproar raised last summer by resorters when airplanes threatened the peace of their lakes, and the continual battle against pollution of streams by towns and industries, all are taken by some to prove something.

There are observers who believe that those things prove that the business of atomic bombs, jet planes, flying wings, and all the nervous excitement of the science enthusiasts pales sometimes on the person who sees much value in "listening to the fish biting."

Some think there are those who feel often that civilization is "too much with us," and that the sense of values taught by the subtle sights and sounds of nature has been given little enough importance in the world as it is.

All this, the commission appears to have dismissed with a wave of the hand as being less important than the progress of aviation.

Hunters, fishermen, summer cottagers and vacationers who do not like to contemplate the coming of the day when it will be impossible to find any place in Michigan free of civilization and its neuroses may wonder whether the aeronautics commission gave its decision enough thought.

Q&A Service

By WS Bureau

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS column, and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Escanaba Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

Q. What is the origin of the name of the State of Missouri?
A. It is Sioux (Indian) meaning "muddy water."

Q. Did "Slingshot" Sam my Baugh of the Washington Redskins professional football team establish any new records during the past season?

A. Baugh, famous for his passing, and finishing his 11th season in professional football, established 5 all-time records; for number of completed forward passes, forward passes attempted, total yardage gained through the air, the greatest number of touchdowns, and an all-time efficiency rating.

Q. Why do many states require by law that milk be pasteurized?

A. The main reason that many states require that milk be pasteurized is because even milk that looks clean may contain germs of such diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis, and diphtheria, if drawn from diseased cows, if handled by persons carrying the germs of these diseases, if utensils and containers are washed in polluted water, or if the milk is contaminated by flies. Pasteurizing milk, or holding it at a temperature of 145 degrees F. for 30 minutes, is the best practical method of destroying disease-producing bacteria without causing undesirable changes in the milk.

Gold, Platinum For Sun Glasses

Havana.—Your favorite movie star may be driving out Sunset Boulevard with gold, platinum or other metal lenses in her sun glasses and you will be wearing them on Main Street soon, it appears from a report by Dr. John L. Matthews, San Antonio, Tex., to the Third Pan American Congress on Ophthalmology here.

The thin film of platinum, gold, silver or chrome and nickel alloy is deposited on the lens of the glasses. It shuts out infra-red rays while admitting sufficient light for particular purposes. This metallic filter method of protecting the eyes against radiation deserves further study and development, Dr. Matthews said.

During the war lenses with a deposit of the chrome alloy on the upper part were used by pilots to scan areas around the sun for hostile craft while retaining clear forward vision. The density of the film is graded from the center of the lens to the top.

She had a telephone to call the doctor... because telephone service is shared

Thousands of folks who now have telephones would still be without—if service weren't being shared the "party-line" way.

By connecting more than one telephone to a line, available cable and central office equipment can bring the protection of a telephone to many more families sooner.

That's why, in most communities, only party-line telephones are being installed in private homes—why individual-line service is not yet available to most party-line subscribers who would like a line of their own.

Telephone factories are making record progress on new switchboards, cables and other equipment needed to catch up with the demand for telephones. And we're working as fast as we can to speed the day when everyone can have the kind of service he wants.

In the meantime, we think most folks will agree that the thing to do is to let available telephone facilities serve as many as possible—which means sharing the "party-line" way.

ATOMIC BOMBS SPUR CAVEMEN

National Speleological
Society Increases
Membership

By FRANK W. PITMAN
AP Newsfeatures

Denver, Colo.—Cave exploration in the United States is experiencing "boom times" and the result may be discovery of underground chambers rivaling Mammoth Cave in Kentucky or Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, best known of the subterranean wonders.

Don Bloch, former editor and long time member of the National Speleological society, adds that some of the increased interest in caves has developed among "intelligent persons" who have been reading about atomic warfare and other perfected means of destruction.

"They find a feeling of security in the cave," says Bloch.

Another speleologist, William E. Davis of Arlington, Va., notes "the remaining untouched fields for those with pioneer inclinations is found underground. Even though caves were man's first (and possibly his next) dwelling place, relatively few of them have been thoroughly explored and still fewer mapped."

Boy Scouts are going underground with Explorer (senior) scout troops showing the way. Scouts in the Atlanta area feel caves are the last frontiers for practical exploration without prohibitive expense.

Olaf Slostad, Rock Mountain region assistant scout executive, reports most scouts have an avid interest in underground pioneering and emphasizes about the only unexplored areas in the more populated eastern and southern districts are beneath the surface.

Bloch reports scores of new caves being discovered but none yet rival Mammoth, found in 1799 by a hunter chasing a bear in a hole, or Carlsbad, explored in 1901 by a cowpuncher who saw thousands of bats flying from it.

Those who like to fathom the "unknown" are the greatest cave enthusiasts. The late Amelia Earhart, before her ill-fated Pacific flight, had made a "date" to investigate some of the more remote unexplored passages in Carlsbad Caverns.

The main attraction for the cave explorers, say speleologists, is the hope that they will find an awe-inspiring sight never seen before by anyone else.

People who like to "rough it" can fulfill their heart's desire in the undeveloped cave—as contrasted with the commercialized cavern.

Speleologists warn against individual exploration, recommending parties of two or more. Among the suggested paraphernalia is loose clothing that can be taken off easily.

"Practically every explorer will testify," says the society's bulletin, "that he has had to slip out of his clothes to get through a tight place."

It adds "Swearing is considered good form where you have to crawl through a lot of mud."

The more timid probably would prefer to confine their subterranean exploration to the wonderland cave replete with a night club convention hall and theatrical lighting 500 feet beneath the Ozark mountains at Bella Vista, Ark.

If you're prospecting for a fortune, a cave isn't a likely place. The society says "caves rarely contain precious minerals but they constitute a scientific treasure-house of information on the forgotten peoples who roamed this continent when the world was young."

Bloch reports the membership

"The Happy-Go-Luckies" orchestra have returned from Escanaba where they have been of the National Speleological society has doubled to more than 800 in the past year. He says that is only one of many indications that interest in exploring caves has mushroomed since the war.

CHICAGO CLUB BACKS SEAWAY

Seven Reasons Offered
For St. Lawrence
Project

Chicago (U. P.)—The City Club of Chicago has gone on record as approving construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project. The club gives seven reasons.

Pending before Congress now for approval is the 1941 agreement between the United States and Canada for the $212,000,000 seaway.

If and when the St. Lawrence waterway comes into existence, it would consist of 2,400 miles of connected waterways. They would be deep enough to permit the heaviest of ocean-going ships to travel from the Atlantic Ocean to the extreme western tip of Lake Superior.

On the pro side of the controversy are these points as outlined by the City Club of Chicago: 1—The hydro-electric plants will furnish cheap power.

2—The seaway will hold down the costs of shipping.

3—The seaway will carry foreign raw materials to manufacturing plants in the interior, holding down costs.

4—Flow of foreign materials will slow down the use of our natural resources such as iron.

5—It will stimulate the construction of naval and ocean-going vessels, particularly in the interior.

6—It will be an aid to national security.

7—It will furnish employment.

Plan NRA Rifle Club in Escanaba

All present members of the National Rifle Association and all interested in target shooting and improved rifle marksmanship are invited to attend a meeting for the purpose of forming a local club next Tuesday evening.

The meeting will be held in the second floor meeting room at the Daily Press office and is planned to begin at 7:30.

playing for the past several weeks.

The local school board attended a meeting of Luce Co. boards, who are sending high school pupils to Newberry, at Newberry Thursday evening. The meeting was conducted by Mr. Bystrom. Members from Seney attending were Mesdames Smith, Ketola, Boonenberg and Messrs. Sadler and Pelkie.

The 4-H clubs were organized last week. Mr. Tull will take charge of the handicraft this year and Mrs. Effie Nelson will assist with the girls' sewing classes.

A human being transferred to conditions similar to those found on the surface of the planet Jupiter would be simultaneously frozen, asphyxiated, poisoned and pressed to death by his own weight and the weight of the atmosphere which is about a million times the weight of the atmosphere on the earth.

It is estimated that rats do an average of $3,000,000 damage on U. S. farms every year.

Florist-Barber-Mayor Finds Time For Fishing

By JAMES E. HELBERT

Englewood, O. (NEA) — Used to be that Clyde Fetter thought maybe he was just about the busiest man in this village of 531 population 12 miles north of Dayton. Now he's sure of it.

About the time he'd get to cutting a nice bunch of chrysanthemums for a customer and doing them up real fancy with a ribbon, some fellow who overslept would charge in and demand a 15-minute shave in 180 seconds flat.

"Boy, I thought I had plenty to keep me jumping then, but that's before they slipped one over on me," said Fetter.

The one "they slipped over" on the town's combination barber-florist was to elect him mayor. And he didn't know he was even running. Lots of other people didn't either.

Anyway, no one filed for the office at the recent election and that included Ira Warner, who had held the job several years and told friends he was "plumb sick and tired of it... all work and no pay."

So voters wrote in the names of 14 candidates and Fetter got 27 votes. His nearest competitor received nine.

Fetter didn't seek the office, but today among his razors and flower pots, hair tonic and enriched dirt, he says that he has a plan to bring more entertainment to Englewood so the young folks won't go traipsing to Dayton for fun and frolic.

His police force has made motorists racing to their work in Dayton factories realize that the Englewood streets are not the Utah salt flats.

What with holding court, attending council meetings and listening to citizens demand that the street be repaved in front of their houses, Fetter decided that he's really busy now.

But not even the crush of legalities, blooming violets and fancy hairtrims stops Fetter from going fishing every Wednesday. Even when he has to fish through the ice.

Clyde Fetter: "I've slipped one over on me."

Soo Tech Offers 37 Scholarships

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. (AP) — Thirty-seven scholarships for the 1948-1949 college year of the Sault Branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology have been announced by the Sault Branch Scholarship committee.

In addition, it was pointed out, there are some 600 scholarships, one for each high school in Michigan, worth approximately $150, that 1948 graduates can compete for and may use at either the Sault Branch or the College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

Thirty-three of the 37 scholarships offered at the Sault Branch are being donated by Sault Citizens and organizations. They have a value of from $100 to $150.

Two scholarships, offered by the Algoma Ore Properties limited of Sault, Ontario, have a value of $250 each. Michigan boys are eligible. Two additional scholarships at Sault Branch are offered by the Algoma Ore Properties to boys in the Algoma district of Ontario.

Superintendents of schools and principals of Michigan high schools are now being notified by the local scholarship committee of the scholarships available here.

on the market today, because great numbers of animals are being slaughtered. Informants point out, however, that unless steps are taken to preserve livestock the entire supply of animals will be exhausted this winter.

Because there is a lack of fodder throughout Greece farmers are selling their animals to butchers at low costs.

MICHIGAN ROADS GETTING BUSIER

Over 2,300,000 Vehicles Predicted For 1970 By Engineer

Lansing, (AP)—Michigan will have more than 2,300,000 vehicles on its highways in 1970, compared to 1,798,000 last year, it was predicted by J. P. Buckley, engineer-director of the State Highway study committee, in an address before the Lansing exchange club.

In the same period, travel on highways will rise to 25,000,000,000 vehicle miles annually, an increase of 7,500,000,000 above 1947.

The average annual mileage per vehicle rose from 4,370 miles in 1920 to 9,310 in 1947, Buckley declared.

His statistics were taken from a committee survey of Michigan road needs which is expected to be submitted next month to Governor Sigler and the Legislature.

In 1948, Buckley said, there were 26.5 vehicles registered in Michigan for every 100 persons, compared with a national average of 24.3.

Vehicular travel in Michigan last year reached 17,500,000,000 vehicle miles, Buckley said, adding, "the estimate of future traffic growth assumes that at least minimum roads and street needs will be met. Otherwise the sheer physical limitations of the highway plant will prevent the normal growth of travel."

A little more than half of the travel was on urban streets, he said the survey showed.

In urban places, the trunkline routes carried the heaviest load, 29 per cent of all state traffic. Other urban streets carried 23 per cent of the total. In the rural areas trunk lines carried 34 per cent of state travel and county roads 14 per cent of the state total.

FIRST ENGINE TO RUN AGAIN

Pioneer Reconditioned By C&NW Railway For Centennial

Chicago, —The locomotive that spearheaded the growth of Chicago from a swampy village of 4,000 inhabitants to the transportation crossroads of the world is being groomed to ride the rails again.

The engine, the Pioneer, has been moved to the shops of the Chicago and North Western Railway System where it is being reconditioned for a key role in the railway's centennial celebration this year, according to an announcement by R. L. Williams, president of the North Western.

The Pioneer was brought to Chicago by boat in 1848 by the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad, forerunner of the present North Western System, and made its maiden run on October 25 of that year. It pulled a car loaded with officials of the G&CU including William Butler Ogden, president of the line and first mayor of Chicago.

The first trip was five miles over strap rails from the bank of the Chicago River to Oak Park, following a route now traveled by the Lake Street elevated line.

To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the founding of Chicago's first railroad and the birth of the city as the railroad capital of the world, the Pioneer will tour the Middle West throughout the summer, visiting 50 key cities.

The original five mile run will be re-enacted in Chicago on October 25, Williams said.

The Pioneer was one of the first engines built by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. It has cylinder 10 inches in diameter and an 18-inch stroke, one pair of driving wheels, two pair of front wheels and a cow-catcher.

This summer will mark its first outdoor appearance since the 1933 World's Fair.

Governor William Bradford of the Massachusetts colony was the founder of the Thanksgiving festival.

Savannah Theater, Oldest One in U. S., Damaged by Blaze

Savannah, Ga., (AP)—A Savannah policeman on duty went to the movies Monday night and remained to direct the evacuation of the historic Savannah theater—oldest in continuous service in the United States—when a fire broke out.

About 200 patrons were directed to safety by patrolman D. L. Perry as flames destroyed a large portion of the roof of the theater, which was opened on Dec. 4, 1818. No one was injured.

Perry, who remained in the burning structure until all other patrons had reached safety, was blinded by smoke, but was rescued by firemen.

The theater, in the heart of downtown Savannah, was designed by the English architect William Jay. Dozens of the most famous actors of the past century have performed on its stage.

Screen actor Charles Coburn began his theatrical career there as an usher more than 60 years ago.

Red Cross Launches Free Blood Program

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter

Rochester, N. Y., (AP)—The American Red Cross has launched a huge nationwide program to supply life-saving blood and many amazing blood products free to all sick and injured citizens.

Hailed as an unique and far-reaching step to improve national health, the program is a direct outgrowth of the wartime mobilization of blood which sent millions of pints of blood and plasma overseas, saving untold lives among war casualties.

Plans call for eventual establishment of some 140 metropolitan centers, with 250 more secondary centers in smaller communities, and several hundred mobile units reaching into rural and suburban areas.

It will be three to five years before all communities can be reached, however, said Basil O'Connor, national Red Cross president.

Physicians estimate that donations of 3,700,000 pints of blood, which cannot be made synthetically, will be needed annually. This will meet demands for treating the sick and victims of accidents, and begin a supply in case of catastrophe or war. The centers will serve all hospitals.

As in wartime, citizens will be asked to donate blood in a simple and relatively painless procedure. The Red Cross will pay costs of processing and distribution. Patients receiving blood or blood products will pay only the charges by physicians or hospitals for administering it.

The majority of the blood, O'Connor said, will be used as whole blood for transfusions for persons who have lost dangerous

WANTS TO STAY A PRINCESS—Princess Christian of Hesse, the former Elizabeth Reid Rogers who gave up her U. ### Thomas L. Thomas to Return; Laryngitis Hinders Concert

A case of laryngitis interfered with the Thomas L. Thomas concert last night. William Oliver auditorium, the Town Hall committee, under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that Mr. Thomas will return at a later date to complete the program.

Mr. Thomas sang the first half of his program, impressing the audience with his free flow of tones and interpretation, but leaving them to wonder where his gusto was. After the first few numbers, "Star Vicino," by Salvatore Rosa, "Che Fiero Costume," of Legrenzi, "O Bellissimi Capelli," and Falcieri's "La Danza," the audience was aware of Mr. Thomas' plight.

He continued however and sang Hahn's "L'Heure Exquise," "Belie Amante," "Mandoline," and Chausson's lovely "Les Temps des Fleurs" with much feeling and rich interpretation.

Jacob Hannemann, accompanist for the radio singer, performed several piano selections by Robert Schumann, to the delight of his listeners. "Evening," "Soaring," and "Whims" all scored with the audience and elicited admiration for the clean, interpretative playing of the young pianist. A beautiful interpretation of Debussy's "Claire de Lune" was offered by him as an encore.

The next portion of the program, devoted to traditional Welsh folk songs, should have proved very enjoyable and interesting but about that time Mr. Thomas' vocal cords began to protest. After struggling through "Ar Hyd Y Nos," (the famous All Through the Night) and the opening bars of "Rhyfelys Gwyr Harlech," Mr. Thomas quietly told his audience of his predicament and stated he would return for a repeat performance.

He was scheduled to sing in Ishpeming tonight, but it was doubted whether he would be able to fill the engagement.

Other numbers listed on the Thomas program, but unfulfilled, included two other Welsh songs, Eakin's "Live and Dream," Waring's "Susan Simpson," and MacGinsey's "Sweet Lil Jesus Boy" and "Jeri-Jeircho."

These Resolutions Are Always Good

BY RUTH MILLETT

It's never too late for women to make New Year's resolutions. Here is a list of a few tested resolutions, that will be useful any time, if you stick to them:

1. Find time for at least one thing you really enjoy doing, every day.
  2. Think more and talk less.
  3. Make an effort not to criticize other women.
  4. Give anyone who talks to you your undivided attention.
  5. Be as courteous to members of the family—including the children—as you are to outsiders.
  6. Think more about what you have, than what you want.
  7. See more of the people you honestly like and enjoy, and less of the other kind.
  8. Laugh more easily and more often.
  9. Be more generous with praise of others.
  10. Keep your troubles to yourself.
  11. Don't strive to impress other people. And don't let the pretenses of others impress you.
  12. Don't be caty.
  13. Stand by your friends.
  14. Keep on learning.
  15. Be as happy as you can.
- For a happy woman makes others happy.

Here is a household hint that every housewife will welcome. It comes from Mrs. A. J. Olson of 308 South 18th street. DANGER SEEN IN INFLATION BY PRESIDENT of 60,000,000 jobs.

3. The start of a broad social, public welfare, resources conservation and industrial development program designed to immunize the nation from "periodic depressions" and to provide Americans with "richer and more satisfying lives."

Consumers Need Income
Move income for consumers will be needed, Mr. Truman said, to keep production up when exports fall off, when credit shrinks, and when savings are reduced, and "more consumer income must be accompanied by better income distribution."

He continued:
"Within ten years, maximum employment will mean 64,000,000 jobs or more."

"To raise the individual to the highest level of productivity and to provide outlet for the increasing part of the labor force which technological changes may displace from the mass production industries, we need improved services in education, health and social security."

Going over again much of the ground he covered in his state of the union message a week ago and his budget message last Monday, the President called for federal aid for elementary and secondary education, prepaid health insurance, and an increase in the payments and coverage of social security, both old-age and jobless pay benefits.

Speaking in terms of ten-year goals, Mr. Truman proposed improved soil management on half the nation's crop and pasture land, more dams for flood control and power, a doubling of the sustained timber yield, development and stockpiling of strategic materials, and the industrial development of "retarded" regions.

Expansion Essential

"We should within ten years be able to increase our annual national output by 35 per cent," the President said. But he declared that business plants and equipment need expansion—especially, he said, in the steel, oil, coke, and electrical industries.

Mr. Truman said a long-range housing program and the rebuilding of blighted city areas should be set in motion by prompt act of Congress as "a start toward the objective of a decent standard of American housing within ten years."

Farm policy, he asserted, should aim at a 10 per cent increase in agricultural output in the decade ahead through soil conservation, the use of three times as many tractors as before the war, federal price supports, and other measures.

As for international affairs: "Our economic relations should be such as to aid in the restoration of Europe under the European recovery program. x x x in a framework of increasing world prosperity, our country can move forward most confidently to meet the problems of our domestic economy."

The report was based on economic data prepared by the President's council of economic advisers. That group was created under the Employment Act of 1946 to advise the government on policies best calculated to maintain maximum employment, production and purchasing power. The council is made up of Edwin G. Nourse, chairman, John D. Clark and Leon Keyserling.

Future Uncertain
The law which set up the council and requires an annual message from the president also created a joint Senate-House committee to weigh its recommendations. Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman of the Senate's Republican policy committee and a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, heads the committee.

Recalling that he issued a mid-year report in August, Mr. Truman said that since that time, "the country has maintained a high level of prosperity, but on a wave of inflation which has already caused serious hardship and presents grave concern for the future."

At the same time he said "the year has revealed the previously unmeasured size of the profitable market which is furnished when nearly 60,000,000 workers are steadily employed with modern equipment and organization."

Thus blending optimism and caution, the president gave this review of the 1947 record:

Consumer income reached a new high rate of $1,264 a person a year, compared with $1,074 in early 1946, but the buying power of the consumer's income dollar dropped nearly eight per cent. Savings were smaller and consumers "drew increasingly on credit."

Consumer credit—which Mr. Truman wants brought back under wartime controls—also reached a new peak—$13,300,000,000 by year's end.

Corporate profits before taxes rose to $28,000,000,000, or one-third higher than in 1946; profits after taxes were $17,000,000,000 as compared with $12,500,000,000.

Business investment reached a record level of $25,000,000,000, but "some part" of the increase lay in higher prices of building and equipment.

Housing units completed were nearly double the 1946 number "but high costs raised the question whether this rate could be continued."

Exports hit an annual rate of $2,000,000,000, then declined. The future balance of trade will depend much "on the size of government aid and private credits extended."

The gross national product, which measures all goods and GERMANS OFFERED THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT—Offering Germans their first central government since Adolf Hitler's suicide on April 30, 1945, the U. S. and Britain gave presidents of eight German states within the Anglo-U. S. occupation zone, a plan for their own two-house legislature, high court and central bank. Highlighting the split between east and west, the move would isolate Russia's "Iron Curtain" eastern zone. Map shows the eight German states over which the new German government would have authority under the existing bilateral Economic Council. Frankfurt would be the provisional capital of western Germany until the whole country is unified.

services produced in current dollar values, reached a $237,000,000,000 a year rate in the last half of 1947, compared with $204,000,000,000 in 1946.

Here Mr. Truman flashed another "danger—inflation" signal. The increase in consumer expenditures exceeded by $3,500,000,000 the increase in their incomes, he said, adding that at their present income consumers cannot absorb the new rate of production when savings dwindle, when the use of credit subsidies and when business retreating levels off.

Wages Lose Ground
"Wage advances during 1947 kept up generally with the cost of living trend during the year," the president said, "but did not gain the ground lost when price increases exceeded wage advances in 1946."

Mr. Truman defended his cost-of-living tax plan against charges from Republican legislators that it would be triply inflationary—by (a) increasing the ready money in the hands of consumers, (b) causing corporations to raise prices, and (c) discouraging production.

He said the temporary $3,200,000,000 increase in corporation taxes would offset any inflationary effect of the $40 deductions. "In any event," he added, "these equitable adjustments will not interfere with success in our anti-inflation efforts if the other anti-inflation measures * * * are promptly adopted and vigorously applied."

Two Bowl Records Taken from Chappuis
Los Angeles, Jan. 14 (AP)—Two records credited to Bob Chappuis and Michigan when the Wolverines shellacked USC 49 to 0 in the Rose Bowl have been tossed out. Statistician Charles Weinstock said he listed two passes by Chappuis as forwards which should have been laterals counting in the yards gained by running. This chopped Chappuis' total net yardage to 91 running, 139 passing, 230 total, less than Dixie Howell's 239 in 1934.

It also trimmed Michigan's forward passes completed to 15 instead of 17, leaving Navy's 16 in 1924 still the record. Michigan's record total of 491 yards remained unchanged.

Czech Population Is Now 12,171,000
Prague, (AP)—According to official statistics, Czechoslovakia's population on May 22, 1947, totaled 12,171,000.

In 1938 there were 14,612,000 people living on the present territory of Czechoslovakia which does not include the province of Ruthenia, now part of the Soviet Union.

Czechoslovakia has lost 2,441,000 inhabitants, mostly Germans, who were transferred to Germany.

PRO SERIES LIKELY
New York, Jan. 14. (AP)—A pro football world series between the champions of the National league and the All-America conference is inevitable in the opinion of a vast majority of the nation's sports editors who participated in the year-end Associated Press poll. A play-off, starting in 1948 if possible, was the wish of over 90 per cent of the voters.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, Jan. 14 (AP)—Like a baseball manager or a football coach, a horse trainer's reputation and his job depends upon the kind of material he gets... he won't win many big races unless his horses are faster than the other guy's and unless he wins his share, he won't be working very long for the same employer... therefore it is remarkable to note that Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons is beginning his 25th year of training for William Woodward's Belair stud and his 24th with Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley stable... this anniversary will be observed with appropriate ceremonies at the Hialeah opening Friday... in those 24 seasons, Mr. Fitz has saddled two "triple crown" winners, Gallant Fox and Omaha, and has won virtually every important stake in the east... but how about an extra round of oats for the horses, too?

Smoke To Burn
According to an old Montreal Canadiens custom, a rookie hockey player who scores his first big league goal passes out cigars just like a new poppa... when rookie Tod Campeau joined the Frenchmen last fall, he bought a box of cigars just to be prepared... after four games he was farmed out to Buffalo and wasn't recalled for three months... Tod finally scored his first goal on Dec. 28 and started to pass out the cigars... to nobody's surprise, he found his teammates had just formed pre-New Year's resolutions to give up smoking.

One-Minute Sports Page
The National Baseball Congress already has mailed more than 1,000,000 letters, cards and circulars in an effort to stir up more sandlot baseball teams for 1948 and expects to mail 3,000,000 more before May 1... Eddie Hickey, St. Louis U. cage coach, brings a report that basketball is booming in his city—all on account of home town boys—and he'd like to get more big eastern teams to visit there... and Syracuse's Lew Andrews doesn't think it so remarkable that Holy Cross had to practice in a barn last season. Says Lew, "whose gym burned last winter: 'I'd be glad to have a cowshed if we could get in every day. We get a high school gym for one hour three times a week.'"

Emil Von Elling of NYU, newly-appointed assistant Olympic track coach, says the Olympic assignment doesn't mean as much to him as the New York track writers award he received a couple years ago.

Entirely Anonymous
When he learned that Tom Lavette, former West Virginia U. basketball player, will be eligible to play for Seton Hall, an unidentified local scribe commented: "Straight player deal; no cash involved."... an equally anonymous spokesman prints out that one reason why Tom Hamilton didn't retire from active duty to become Navy's civilian football coach was that the Academy won't pay the kind of dough Tom or any other "name" coach would want... local headline: "Gashouse Dodgers envisioned by Rickey"... and who else would provide the gas?

Hurry! Hurry! You Can Buy Cruiser For Only 15 Grand

New York, Jan. 14 (AP)—Good news for the harassed American, alarmed by the soaring price of bread, meat and beer, comes from the 34th National Motor Boat show at Grand Central Palace. Now he can buy a brand new 42-foot three-cabin cruiser for only $15,985. Last year it cost $17,850.

A neat affair, known as "the poor man's yacht," sleeps four, sails far and sells for "about $3,000." Another cruiser-built dream job has a $26,500 price tag, with-out accessories. With fishing tackle added this 39-foot offshore cruiser costs $30,600.

Not all prices are in the stratosphere level. You can pick up a neat seat cover for $4.50.

Of 10,000,000 American men and women over 65, the Social Security Board reports, 59 percent are dependent on children or on the community for support.

LIVING COST FIGHT LOOMS

Prolonged Battle Seen Over Issue In Congress

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
WASHINGTON—A prolonged battle over what action the government should take to combat the high cost of living is in prospect for Congress.

The struggle over price-curing legislation could continue several months for these reasons:

1. The many different views held by members of Congress on rationing, price and wage controls and other actions that might be aimed against inflation.
2. Jockeying by Republican and Democratic organizations in Congress for a favorable position (from a vote-winning angle) on a hot issue in an election year.
3. The long parliamentary road a bill has to travel before it becomes law, especially when it is sharply disputed all the way.

An anti-inflation bill, sponsored by the Republican majority, was passed by Congress in the closing hours of the special session. It provided for voluntary agreements among business groups for allocation of scarce commodities.

However, many Democrats and some Republicans who voted for the anti-inflation bill described it as "little better than nothing" as a stabilizer of prices.

Senator Taft, one of the bill's sponsors, said it was a "stopgap" measure.

With many business indications pointing to further price increases, the high cost of living looms as the No. 1 issue in the presidential and congressional election contests. It is certain that bills, providing at least some of President Truman's requests for power to ration certain basic commodities and to set up price and wage controls, will be introduced.

There are some 29 possible stages through which a bill originating in the House may pass before it becomes a law.

They are: (1) introduction of the bill, (2) reference of bill to committee, (3) prolonged committee study of bill, (4) report on bill by committee, (5) clearance of bill by Rules Committee.

The sixth step is placing of bill on House calendar, then—(7) reading of bill a second time in House, (8) consideration by whole House, (9) third reading in House, (10) passage by House, (11) transmission to Senate, (12) reference to Senate committee, (13) report by committee, (14) second reading of bill in Senate, (15) Senate consideration of bill, (16) third reading, (17) passage by Senate.

Nineteenth is return of bill from Senate to House with amendments, (20) settlement of Senate and House differences by conference committee, (21) House vote on joint committee report, (22) Senate vote on same report, (23) enrollment of bill on parchment, (24) signing by speaker of House, (25) signing by president of Senate.

Twenty-sixth step is transmittal of bill to the President, (27) veto by President, (28) vote by House to override veto and, (29) vote by Senate to override veto.

Home Heating Costs Reduced

Washington.—Home heating costs may be reduced where anthracite is used for fuel by using in connection with the ordinary egg or stove coal some of the pea, buckwheat and rice sizes, James Boyd, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, said today.

These small sizes are plentiful, cost less than the larger, and have a heating value almost equal to that of egg, stove and chestnut sizes, he declared. For the best results, the larger and the smaller sizes should be burned in alternate layers. The layer method is particularly advantageous in banking or mild weather firing because the percentage of the smaller sizes can be increased at these times, thus producing a slower burning fire which will last much longer before refueling is necessary.

MARSHALL PLAN LIENS OPPOSED

Secretary Of Treasury Opposes Strings On Foreign Aid

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today vigorously opposed requiring the 16 Marshall Plan countries to use their dollar holdings in this country to help cover costs of the $6,800,000,000 European aid program.

"It would be folly" to force them to do so, the secretary told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Snyder said citizens of these countries had about $4,800,000,000 in dollar assets on last June 30, but he added that:

It would be difficult to get cash readily on most of these assets as some are already pledged for loans; the Europeans need, the funds to cover their normal trade and financial operations; and their holdings already are below a "safe" amount needed to keep their own currencies steady.

Snyder, explaining financial aspects of the Marshall Plan for European recovery in testimony calling on Congress to approve it in the form and amount laid down by President Truman, also said that:

1. Part of the United States money should be provided as "grants in aid"—meaning gifts—and part in loans. The amount required to be repaid should be held down to the "borrowing country's capacity to repay in dollars."

2. Five percent of the program funds should be set aside to guarantee private American firms 17 U. S. dollars in exchange for foreign currencies they earn through investment in those countries. Purpose is to attract private investment abroad.

3. Congress should permit the U. S. aid money to be spent on buying short supply goods for the Marshall Plan countries in Canada, Latin America and elsewhere.

Geologist Predicts Some Oil in Arctic

Laramie, Wyo., (U.P.)—A forecast that oil may be discovered in the Arctic region has been made by a geologist at the University of Wyoming.

The geologist is Ray Thompson, who spent the summer doing oil exploration in the frozen north, and who has just completed a report to the navy on his work in the western part of the naval oil reserve No. 4.

His belief is backed by the fact that appropriations have been made to finance oil exploration in Alaska until 1950.

Promising College Freshman Held For Setting Two Fires

Selmsgrove, Pa. (P)—A Susquehanna university freshman who had been voted "most likely to succeed" on his graduation from high school, is charged with twice setting fire to the college administration building to avoid attending classes.

The student, Joseph Sladek, jr., of Wildwood, N. J., was held for Snyder county court after pleading guilty to arson charges before Justice of the Peace Fred M. Machmer.

A fire last Nov. 3 caused $100,000 damage to the 90-year-old college building known as "Old Selmsgrove" and a second blaze yesterday resulted in slight damage.

District Attorney Horace W. Vought said Sladek who was arrested a few hours after the fire, made a statement that he believed he could avoid attending classes by setting fire to the building. Sladek had been voted "most likely to succeed" by his fellow high school students, Vought said.

Macy's Balloons Run Porters Ragged

New York, (U. P.)—Macy's department store sold an average of 7,000 helium-filled balloons per day during the Christmas season—and had assign a staff of porters to the nightly task of picking a goodly number of them off the ceilings.

The buoyant balloons had a way of getting loose from the fingers of the small fry.

Retrieving the balloons was a cinch on the upper floors, where the porters usually could snare the string with a long window pole. The main floor's high ceilings, however, presented another problem. The porters rigged up another balloon with a weight, sent it aloft, deftly twirled the string and snared the fugitive balloon.

One of the hunters fired at the tiger, wounding him. The tiger dropped the sheep, leaped at the other hunter, took him in his teeth and dashed for the bush.

The dispatch said the tiger, although wounded, travelled several hundred yards before falling and liberating the hunter.

WILL VOTE ON TIME QUESTION

Advisory Ballot Planned Here; Tax Deadline Extended

Gladstone residents will have a chance to express their views again on the time question, it was decided at a meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

An advisory ballot will be submitted to voters at the April 5 election on which the voter may indicate whether he wants central time, Eastern standard or fast time and if the latter whether it should be just for summer months that is from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September as in many other localities, or the year around.

The deadline for payment of taxes was extended to Feb. 15. Ordinarily Jan. 15 is the deadline. Over fifty percent of the roll already have been collected, Miss Vera Ohman, city treasurer, reports.

The question of adopting a pension plan for city employees came up again but no action was taken and interpretation of the plan considered is being requested from City Attorney Clyde McGonagle.

Application of Ray Barber for a tourist liquor license was approved by the commission. Barber operates the Highway Tavern on Fourth avenue north.

Electric Age Puts Lamplighters Out

Chicago (U. P.)—In the infancy of the atomic age, 17 Chicago workmen soon will have their jobs snatched away from them by another era—the electric age. The workmen are lamplighters who operate the city's 4,400 gas-burning and 260 gasoline fixtures. The city has let contracts to replace her antiquated lights. Now it is just a question of a few months before the lamplighters will be looking for new jobs.

abrupt decline in prices and in employment also. This cur is unpopular politically, and we will not see it before Nov. 2, 1948.

Beyond allocating materials and reducing taxes, the only fundamental cures which the government can provide are: (1) putting an embargo on exports, (2) suspending the agricultural price supports, (3) freezing wages and profits, (4) causing interest rates to rise sharply, and (5) reducing government expenses. These movements would be unpopular politically, and I doubt whether we shall see them in 1948.

All of us are selfish. We don't want the federal government to shut off the exports of OUR goods, to suspend price support of OUR products, to freeze OUR wages or profits, to raise the rate of interest which WE are paying, —or to discharge some relative of ours whom we must support—even though these things would be for the good of the nation as a whole. Hence, I again say, "only a spiritual awakening can prevent another severe bust."

Leaders Lack Courage
Members of Congress and the Administration know what to do. Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board has given Congress excellent advice, as reported in the morning papers of Nov. 26. These recommendations, however, are unpopular. Even congressmen are putting their own selfish desires ahead of the nation's good. Congressmen are fearful of labor leaders. They are fearful of veterans, thus, unwilling to take a courageous stand on housing and rents. They are fearful of the bankers, in fact, of all pressure groups in Washington. Hence, 1948 will witness more or less of a do-nothing Congress. I visualize that economic conditions will continue about as at present during 1948; but as a fever is necessary to cure many diseases, so economic distress seems necessary to bring people to their senses and to their knees.

Louis W. Stades Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Stade, 1217 Dakota avenue, quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their son, Ted Stade, 1406 Montana avenue.

A five o'clock dinner was served and the table was centered with a wedding cake topped by a gold wedding bell and flanked by lighted papers. Decorations were in white and gold. The couple received many nice gifts and a purse of money from members of their family.

The Stades were married January 11, 1898 in the Baptist church at Hanover, Canada, by Pastor Wuttke. Much of the 38 years the family has resided in Gladstone, Mr. Stade, now 72, served as special agent for the Soo Line railroad. Mrs. Stade is 68. In the family are five children and four grandchildren.

The children are Tennyson, Lowell, Glenn, Mrs. Michael O'Brien and Mrs. Dorothy Kvam, all of Gladstone.

Betty Dausey Bride Of William J. Moras

Miss Betty Dausey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dausey, 606 North 9th street, City, and William J. Moras, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Moras, Escanaba, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon, January 10, in the rectory of St. Joseph's church, Escanaba, by Rev. Fr. Alphonse. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Roger Madeline, sister of the bride, and Ralph Sarnowski, brother-in-law of the groom.

For her wedding the bride chose a light green dress with white accessories complemented by a corsage of pink roses and white mums. Her attendant was attired in a Kelly green suit with a corsage of yellow mums and jonquils.

A wedding dinner for immediate members of both families was held at the Log Cabin. The traditional wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom centered the table.

The newlyweds left later in the day for a short wedding trip to Green Bay, after which they will reside in Milwaukee where the groom is attending Spencerian College.

The new Mrs. Moras is a graduate of Gladstone high school, class of '47 and the groom is a graduate of EHS, class of '44.

MARCH OF DIMES ON TOMORROW

Varied Fund Raising Events Planned By Committee

Tomorrow, Jan. 15, marks the start of the annual March of Dimes in Schoolcraft county. This event, which for years has spearheaded the fight against infantile paralysis, will this year be conducted by a committee of volunteer workers under the direction of Mrs. Frank Pavlov.

Township and city chairmen have set up the machinery and are hopeful that this will be a record drive in the interest of the unfortunate children who have been stricken with infantile paralysis.

A special event committee, headed by Mrs. George Stephens, city chairman, has made plans to make the fund raising drive an entertaining lesson in public spirited citizenship. On her committee are Mrs. Thomas Grimsley, Mrs. Fred H. Hahne, Mrs. Clarence LaMuth, Mrs. Earl Malloch, Robert Barnes and William Beauman.

In announcing the committees objectives, Mrs. Stephens states that the increase in the number of polio cases makes it more necessary than ever that mothers in the city rally to this extremely worthy cause.

Containers for collection of dimes, quarters, dollars or whatever one wishes to give will be placed at vantage points in business places throughout the county.

DISCUSS FIRE ZONE WIDENING

Proposal Made To City
Dads To Include
Industry Areas

Extension of fire limits within the city and the inclusion of certain requirements in the granting of building permits to business places within the zone, were discussed at length at Monday evening's session of the city council. While that body came to no decision on this matter, further investigation of the proposals is expected in the near future.

The fire zone, according to proposals made at the meeting, would be extended to include all business and industrial areas of the city, and the issuance of building permits would call for these added requirements: That the building be provided with an automatically controlled heating system or a central heating plant of nationally recognized specifications; that the building have adequate rear-service entrance; that it provide its own off-street parking facilities.

The council also went on record recommending to the State Liquor Control Commission that Myrl Hayden be granted an 8-months B resort license for Hotel Ossawanimakee.

Councilman L. R. Richards expressed warm approval for the manner in which the street department has taken care of snow clearance this year and that sentiment was concurred in by all members of the council.

"It Seems To Me"

BY IIM WARD

Of strictly surprise variety was the announcement here yesterday that Joseph L. Beauchamp, 23, of 326 1/2 South 9th street, Escanaba, who played end at St. Joseph's parochial school in 1940 along with Fred Hirm, Dan Stacy and Clarence Needham, had signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers.

Comparatively little had been heard of the six-foot-192-pound youth since he joined the U. S. Navy in 1941, but it is apparent that he played a lot of solid service football and is ready for at least a tryout with the Packer football family, which recently acquired Jug Girard and Ed Smith, two potent backs.

Beauchamp is married, the father of two children, and is determined to make good. He was discharged from the Navy July, 1946, and has been working in Escanaba and taking flight training under the G. I. Bill of Rights at Pioneer Aviation since.

But let Beauchamp tell his story: "I played with Great Lakes in 1942, Miami Naval Training Station in 1943, with Schumacher Receiving Base eleven at Schumacher, Calif., in 1944 and at Camp Perry, Va., in 1945," he said.

"It was while playing a game at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., that I first became interested in playing for the Green Bay Packers. I met Marshall Goldberg, who plays with the Chicago Cardinals, and he suggested that I write to Curley Lambeau.

"Well, one thing led to another. Lambeau and I carried on quite a correspondence. I went to Green Bay December 28 and had a long talk with George Strickler, the Packer business manager, and here I am. I received the contract January 12."

Escanaba football fans who have been coveting about these parts much longer than we have undoubtedly will recall Beauchamp's playing days at St. Joe. He played right end but in the service has played both ends.

The good wishes of all Escanaba fans go with Beauchamp in his Packer venture. The muscle men of the National Professional Football league constitute pretty rugged company, but we sincerely hope this determined young man makes good in a big way.

CUFF NOTES: Aye-yi-yi! What troubles the U. S. Olympic ski jumping team is having... First Walt Bietla, veteran of the '36 team, picks up an ankle injury in practice... Then Art Devlin, 1946 national amateur champion from Lake Placid, injures a knee in practice... And now Ishpeming's Ralph Bietla fractures his left wrist on a warmup leap... That leaves Joe Perrault, Ishpeming; Gordon Wren, Winter Park, Colo., and Sverre Fredheim, 40-year-old ace from St. Paul, Minn., to carry the weight... If Perrault is anywhere near the form he displayed last season, he will surprise you in the official Olympic jumping at St. Moritz in February.

The winter games start Jan. 30 and continue through Feb. 8... AP has completed all arrangements to provide you with full coverage... Eight AP staffers will be on hand to write and take pix.

Ever stop to think of what the Michigan gridders are doing now? Bob Chappuis is working out with the Wolverine baseball team... He has his eye on the first string catcher's job... Pete Elliott and Irv Wisniewski are trying to keep the Wolverines in the thick of the Big Nine basketball race... Elliott is a regular and a sparkplug at that... Jack Weisenburg and Chalmers "Bump" Elliott are out for baseball, carryovers from last year, and Hank Fonde and Bob Mann are out for track... Dan Dworsky, rugged linebacker, has already donned wrestling togs at U-M... He is a star heavyweight grappler.

Marquette, Jan. 14—(Special to the Escanaba Daily Press)—Once it got accustomed to the 180-foot-long Marquette Palestra ice rink, the Escanaba Hawk sextet outplayed the fast Marquette Liberty Loons in a rousing Upper Michigan Amateur Hockey league game played here last night, but the four goals the Loons poured in while the Hawks were "getting the feel" of the larger rink proved to be too much.

PRACTICE GAME

In preparation for the game here next Sunday afternoon against Marquette, the Escanaba Hawks will play a practice game with the Escanaba juniors at the indoor rink Thursday night, beginning at 8:30. The public is invited. There will be no charge.

The final score was 4-2. After Marquette had scored four goals in the opening period, it was all Escanaba. The second period was scoreless, and the Hawks racked up a pair of goals in the final period in an offensive onslaught that might have resulted in at least a half dozen goals for the visitors had it not been for some stellar work on the part of the Marquette goalie.

Hawks Clicking

Escanaba's net tender, George Gerou, came in for a large share of glory, also, as he turned in a tight game and kicked back everything Marquette shot his way from the opening period on to the final bell.

The Hawks were clicking last night, inspired by the prospect of handing the Loons their first defeat of the season, but the time required to get used to playing on a rink 60 feet longer than their home rink proved their undoing. In rapid succession, G. Kelly, Bob and Gale Lawrence and B. Pascoe racked up goals for the home sextet. B. Anthony assisted Kelly. W. Mitchell passed to Gale Lawrence for the third goal after the latter's brother Bob had scored unassisted and Gale Lawrence got an assist on Marquette's fourth goal.

The Hawks put the heat on in final 20 minutes of play after failing to dent the Marquette net in the second period. Roland Taylor and Dudley Paquette both scored unassisted for Escanaba in the finale, both close in shots that found the mark.

'Beat Marquette Sunday'

Although they lost, the Hawks were inspired by their comeback and immediately began to lay plans for Marquette's invasion of the Escanaba rink next Sunday afternoon.

The game shapes up as one of the outstanding hockey attractions of the local season. Marquette is undefeated in league play, has its toughest game of the season against Escanaba on Marquette ice last night and next Sunday must face the Hawks on the latter's ice. The opening faceoff will be at 3 p. m.

At the same time Newberry will be playing Gladstone on the latter's playground outdoor rink. The game between Gladstone and Newberry at Newberry, slated to be played Thursday night, will be played in Newberry Saturday night, Gordon Haga, Gladstone manager, announced this morning.

Nahma Sawyers Win Two Tilts, Look For More Competition

Nahma, Jan. 14—The Nahma Sawyers independent basketball team breezed right along in high gear last weekend with victories over the Manistique Paper Mill five, 40-35, and the Cooks Bombers, 42-21, and currently is looking for new worlds to conquer.

If you have a fairly potent independent basketball team kicking around and want to line up a bangup game, all you have to do is write a letter to Tom Tobin at Nahma and he'll fix you up. You have to play on your court, however, because the Nahma Clubhouse, valued at $50,000, burned down not long ago—remember?

BREADON HONORED

St. Louis, Jan. 14. (P)—Sam Breadon, who as head of the St. Louis Cardinals established himself as baseball's most persistent manager, finally has won the honor that eluded him longest—the claim of the St. Louis fans. He usually unruffled Breadon who sold the club six weeks ago after bringing the city nine National league championships and six world series titles was visibly moved last night as he received tribute from more than 1,000 persons packed in a hotel banquet hall for a testimonial dinner.

HARDWARE FIVE WINS, 44 TO 30

All Share In Scoring In Victory Over Crystal Falls

Crystal Falls, Jan. 14—The Hardwaremen of Escanaba kept right in the thick of the fight for the Northern Wisconsin-Michigan Basketball league championship by pasting a 44-30 defeat on the Crystal Falls Ramblers here last night.

The victory was achieved by the Hardwaremen without any spectacular scoring performance by Bob Ranguette, which is somewhat on the unusual side. The rugged Hardware center was held to a solitary field goal and a lone free throw.

Meanwhile Ed Gauthier set the pace with 12 points, but every Hardware player shared in the scoring. The Escanabans started with a rush, taking a 17-9 first quarter lead. The Ramblers had a 7-5 edge in the second quarter, giving the Hardwaremen a 22-16 halftime lead, which they stretched to 35-16 by the end of the third and fourth cantos.

Pretto, Crystal Falls forward, topped the individual scorers with 13 points.

The Hardwaremen next home game will be against Vulcan in the William Bonifas gymnasium.

U. S. Olympic Skaters Will Be Big Threat If They Can Master European Racing Style

Bangup Game In Store When Eskymos Tangle With Maroons Saturday

A bangup game is in prospect in Menominee Saturday night when the Escanaba high school Eskymos, victors over Gladstone last Friday night by a 38-23 count, battle the Menominee Maroons, currently in the midst of a hot scoring streak that seems not to have abated a bit over the holidays.

As proof of this, the Maroons last Saturday night spanked Kingsford, 54-20, by sinking something like 50 percent of the shots they flung at the basket. Adding weight to the statement that the Maroons are having a hot shooting streak is the fact that in Kingsford before the holidays, the Flivs took Menominee without too much trouble.

The well-worn sports phrases "bangup" and "battle" are no misnomers by any means, in reference to the coming Menominee-

Escanaba game. It is a well-known act that the Maroons play a rough-and-tumble variety of basketball in contrast to the Eskymos' emphasis on smooth floor play.

Whistle Prospect

Escanaba looked good in beating Gladstone last week perhaps even better than they looked in the first half against Iron Mountain and until the roof caved in on them in the second half. With Captain Dick Lough and Jim Deane bringing the ball down, the Eskymos' passing attack clicked with finesse that was fine to see.

Escanaba showed scoring ability, also, with Lough a constant threat from the mid-court on in. Lough pumped in five field goals, four of them long awishers. Ray Hirm contributed four, all of them within 10 minutes in the last half to quell a Gladstone offensive threat, and Warren Gustafson and Deane each chunked in three.

It's a safe wager there will be plenty of whistle work in this clash with Menominee. Eskymos fans hope only that such stalwarts as Lough and Gustafson play as effectively as they did against Gladstone and still avoid a personal foul exit that undoubtedly will be encouraged by such Maroon aces as Mike Shettsky, Jack McCormick and Jack Farley, who, like Gustafson are more used to gridiron tactics.

.500 Rating To Date

In the Kingsford game, Deschaine, McCormick and Shettsky scored 12, 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Escanaba has a .500 rating to date, having won three and lost three. Victories were over St. Joseph's, winner of the U. P. parochial school tournament; Kingsford by a 42-23 count (compared with Menominee's 54-20 triumph over Kingsford and Gladstone. Losses, all of them close, were to Marquette, Iron Mountain and Ishpeming.

Escanaba's stock soared somewhat when Marquette turned in a 61-47 victory over the Upper Peninsula Class B champion, Bessemer, in Marquette last Saturday. It was Bessemer's first loss of the season.

Marquette beat Escanaba by a scant 33-32 margin here before the holidays.

Wayne Nystrom, Marquette's six-foot five-inch center, had a field day against Bessemer, however, scoring 30 of Marquette's 61 points.

Marquette, Jan. 14—In a ding-dong game in which the lead changed hands several times, Lourdes of Marinette stopped the Menominee Maroons, 42-38, here last night.

The score was tied at 30-all with four minutes to go when Lourdes forged into the lead and held a slim margin. Menominee couldn't connect the way it did against Kingsford Saturday night when the Flivvers bowed, 54-20.

Menominee is host to Escanaba Saturday night.

Dick Schram, Escanaba, officiated last night.

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—The strongest Olympic speed-skating team ever assembled by the United States will be a distinct threat in the 1948 winter games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, Jan. 30-Feb. 8—If it can do a hurry-up job in learning to race European style.

The nine-member American squad is fortified with youth, with six stars 24 or under, and Coach Pete Miller of Chicago is banking on that youth to provide the stamina demanded by the Olympic program of four championships ranging from 500 to 10,000 meters.

Miller readily admits the current squad, headed by brilliant Bob Fitzgerald, 23, of Minneapolis, who is favored to whip Europe's best at 500 meters, is the best this country has dispatched to five Olympics.

Its captaincy by Delbert Lamb, only holderover from the 1936 U. S. Olympic team and the "old man" of the squad at 32. It has such other top-notchers as Ken Bartholomew, 27, Minneapolis; Ray Blum, 27, Nutley, N. J., also one of the best amateur bicyclists in the country; Am Henry, 18-year-old Chicagoan; Louis (Sonny) Rupperecht, 21, St. Louis, Mo.; Dick Solem, 20, Chicago; and Art Scaman, 24, and John Werket, 22, both of Minneapolis.

Its Americans, especially in the 1,500-meter (approximately one-mile), 5,000 meter (3 1/4 miles) and 10,000 meter (6 1/4 miles), are to overcome European competition, predominantly from the Scandinavian countries, they'll have to be plenty savvy to the art of Olympic skating.

In this country, skaters whoop through races pell-mell in pack fashion, letting a rival set the pace and break the wind.

In the Olympics, the races are against time with only two skaters taking the ice at one time. These two alternate laps between an inner and outer course on a double 400-meter track. Each course is about 15 feet wide and the two are separated by a one-foot high ridge of snow which has a long opening to permit the skaters to switch.

Rarely, if ever, do the two skaters hook up in a man-to-man duel, the race being almost entirely confined to a test of pacing against the clock.

Top-Notch Bowlers To Compete With Manistique Elks

Manistique, Jan. 14—The Distel Heating company bowling team, of Lansing, a top-ranking team of the Midwest, will pay Manistique a visit Thursday evening, January 22 and bowl with a selected team of Elk bowlers.

The Lansing team is captained by John Gafner, formerly of Escanaba. The men will be on their way at that time to participate in the Petersen Classics at Chicago, Ill.

JOCKEY STAR DIES
Los Angeles, Jan. 14 (P)—George E. Mountain, 69, one of the nation's top jockeys 40 years ago, died here Monday, his brother, William, announced. Mountain rode Peter Pan to victory in the 1907 Belmont and in one season had 17 stakes winners. He toured Mexico and South America after 1911 and rode his last race in 1927 in Venezuela and came to California to live.

Lead Changes 19 Times As Spartan '5' Nips Marquette

East Lansing, Jan. 14 (P)—Michigan State won a dingdong basketball battle from Marquette 57 to 54 last night before 8,226 fans who saw the lead change 19 times and the score tied nine times before the clock ran out.

A successful stall in the last two minutes of play gave the Spartans, leading 56-52 at the time, the edge in the even-Stephen contest.

Sam Saucedo, stocky Marquette forward, managed to break the holding tactics for one more Hill-top tally but it wasn't enough and a free throw by Guard Hugh Dawson accounted for the final State marker with less than 15 seconds to go.

Bob Brannum, six foot five inch Spartan center and captain, was also head and shoulders above his teammates in the scoring as he put together eight baskets and three free throws for 19 points.

Saucedo, who started in place of Marquette Captain Eugene Berce who was injured in the University of Detroit tussle Monday night, was the leading play-maker and scorer for the visitors with 16 points from six field goals and four free throws.

High-scoring Norm Hankins—contributing 21 points to the onslaught—boosted his season point total to 208. He has scored an average of 23.7 points per game.

Pressmen Get Help In Darbail Victory

Thanks to some heavy-hitting support on the part of the Gladstone Lutheran Brotherhood, whose players just happened to be in the neighborhood, the Escanaba Press darball team copped two out of three from the firemen of No. 1 hall in match played here last night. The fire chasers won the opener, 5-4, but dropped the last two, 3-2 and 8-5 to the pressmen—and the Brotherhood.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. John Carlson. We are very grateful to Rev. ## MERCURY DROPS ACROSS NATION

Northern Minnesota Has Lowest Mark With 24 Below Zero

(By The Associated Press)

Dixie got a touch of below freezing weather and light snow in some sections and colder weather sent temperatures to near season's lows in some parts of the Midwest today.

The mercury plunged to 24 below in Minnesota and the sub-zero readings extended to northern Illinois. The mass of cold air moderated as it spread over all of the Gulf States except southern Florida.

Coldest weather of the season was reported in many southern states.

The coldest in Jacksonville, Fla., was 33, while the warmest city reporting on the early morning weather map was Miami, with a reading of 61.

The sub-zero marks were reported in Minnesota, with International Falls -24 the lowest; the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. The one below at Chicago equalled the low mark for the season.

The cold wave was expected to move into the northeastern section of the country today and to night. Weather west of the Rockies was reported generally fair with temperatures about normal.

Woman Has Rifle Set For Prowling Hollywood Deer

Hollywood, Jan. 14 (AP)—Public complaint over prowling deer reached a crescendo today and at least one woman has her rifle ready.

The prowlers, mostly night operatives, are hungry animals prone to picking up extra calories by feeding on carefully tended gardens of foothill homes in Hollywood and neighboring Glendale.

Irate citizenry have lodged numerous complaints and Capt. W. T. Shannon of the State Division of fish and game has promised a survey.

Shannon says drought conditions resulting in scarcity of green vegetation in upper mountain areas have driven the deer to the more fertile gardens and lawns of foothill homes.

"In cases where there has been great damage to property by animals we issue permits to owners to shoot them," Shannon said.

Worried Mother, 22, Held In Strangling Of 3-Year-Old Son

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 14 (AP)—A 22-year-old blond mother was in city jail today under a murder charge in the diaper strangulation of her three-year-old son.

Detective Chief J. R. Norrell said the woman, Mrs. Dorothy Fitzhugh, signed a statement in which she admitted wrapping a diaper around the child's neck after days of worry over family finances.

The officer quoted her as saying a $1,000 insurance policy was in effect on the boy, Johnny Fitzhugh.

Alexander Fitzhugh, her husband, was at work as an electrician for a steel company at the time of the child's death early yesterday in their garage apartment.

Artificial Infant Ruled Legitimate In New York Suit

New York, Jan. 14 (AP)—A child born as the result of artificial insemination is legitimate, a New York state supreme court justice held yesterday in ruling that the husband of the mother of such a child has the rights of a parent.

The decision came after a hearing on a petition by Mrs. Julie Strnad 31, who requested the court to deny her estranged husband the right to visit her four-year-old daughter, Antoinette, on the ground the child was conceived by artificial insemination and is not the offspring of the husband.

Justice Henry Clay Greenberg ruled that a man whose wife bears a child through artificial impregnation is entitled to the same rights "as those acquired by a foster parent who has formally adopted a child."

Greenberg directed that the husband, Antoine Strnad, 42, be permitted to visit the child each Sunday. The justice said he was assuming the child was artificially conceived, and although Strnad was not the father he had "potentially adopted" the child and "should be accorded the same rights of visitation as the natural father."

"In the opinion of this court," Greenberg added, "this child is not illegitimate."

JEWS EXPECT FINISH FIGHT FOR TEL AVIV

minarets in Jaffa can, and do, snipe at them at will.

Hate Spills Jaffa
Jaffa, the target for recurrent Jewish attacks in recent weeks, appears to be a seething cauldron of hate. Visitors to the city have their identification cards checked and rechecked and even then they face the bitter accusation: "Yehuda (Jew)" the most damning epithet in the Arabic language these days.

The whole of Jaffa is laced up by dozens of steel and stone road blocks and there are little knots of people with guns on virtually every street corner.

Between the two cities under the guns of both there is a strip three blocks wide—no man's land, Jews and Arabs alike have fled from it and across it the two communities face each other in deadly fear.

In Jaffa's coffee shops, over tiny cups of over-sweetened coffee, Arabs remark:

"Our men are coming and when we are ready and when the order comes we will drive Tel Aviv into the sea."

In Tel Aviv, a Jew with his feet pulled down to his eyes and peering over a gun barrel, declared:

"We may lose all of Palestine, but Tel Aviv, never."

Warm Suits And Reliable Engines Needed in Arctic

Fort Monroe, Va., (SS)—War in the Arctic would favor the side with the "warmest suits" and the most "reliable engines," an Army expert on fighting conditions in the Far North said.

Col. Paul V. Kane, commanding officer of Task Force Frigid in Alaska last winter, predicts in Military Review that if war comes to the Arctic, it will be in the form of an air attack. But before any nation risks war in the Far North, it will have good equipment and well-trained cold weather fighters.

"No military force will tarry in the Arctic any longer than is necessary," Col. Kane said.

"It will probably leave sufficient force to protect its lines of communications and then hurry on to its main objective farther south."

"The best way to stop an air invasion through the Arctic," concludes the former Arctic commander, "is to throw a deep air block in the way of the enemy."

"This requires a warning net and intelligence organization of the most dependable sort."

AFL WANTS HIM — Ex-Sen. James M. Mead of New York is top candidate to head the AFL's new Educational and Political League, the first venture the labor organization has taken into national politics. Mead, who ran for governor of New York against Thomas Dewey in 1946, was a consistent supporter of organized labor in the Senate.

IKE'S HIS MAN — Stuart Scheffel, 37, wants to draft a general Not the "greetings" kind of drafting, however. Scheffel, a New York magazine publisher, is new chairman of the National Draft Eisenhower League, Inc., and he wants to draft General Ike for President.

Chicago Symphony Dismisses Musical Director Rodzinski

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—Dr. Arturo Rodzinski, one of the nation's leading musical conductors who became musical director of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra less than a year ago, has been dismissed by the orchestral association.

Rodzinski, who came to the Chicago orchestra last February after resigning as conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, will not be re-engaged when the present season ends in April, association trustees announced yesterday.

A statement given at a press conference by Cyrus H. Adams, association vice president, said that differences of opinion between Rodzinski and the association's board of trustees "make it clearly evident that his further connection with the orchestra and with the board of trustees cannot be satisfactory."

The 56-year-old conductor, who was reported confined to his home by illness, said in a statement that "I shall make no statement until I have examined the charges which apparently have been made against me—charges which I have not yet had any opportunity to meet or even to see."

The orchestral association's statement listed disagreements with Rodzinski in connection with the number of concerts which he would personally conduct; the substitution of orchestral works other than those advertised for performances, and the staging of operatic productions at a cost greatly exceeding budget estimates.

Burst of Gunfire Kills Ex-Convict In New York Home

New York, Jan. 14 (AP)—Benjamin "Chippie" Weiner, 43, identified by police as an ex-convict, died early today of wounds received in a mysterious burst of gunfire in which a bullet struck the wall above a crib where his six-month-old son slept in his apartment.

Weiner, with four bullets in him, staggered toward a woman neighbor, mumbled "get the baby," and collapsed.

Unable to speak because of a bullet-severed larynx but conscious until he died at Bellevue hospital, Weiner refused to write when police handed him a pad and pencil in the hope of getting a clue to the killer or killers.

His wife, Sylvia, 35, told police she had gone out for a walk and returned home after the shooting.

Satira Hires New Lawyer to Appeal Murder Sentence

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 14 (AP)—In a new effort to win her freedom, Patricia Schmidt, who danced professionally as Satira, has hired a new lawyer to conduct her appeal from a 15-year prison sentence for the slaying of Chicago lawyer John Lester Mee on his yacht here last April.

She signed a paper, last night naming Carlos Mencia one of this country's outstanding criminal attorneys, to represent her, in place of Rene Castellanos, who defended her at the trial last year.

"I am very hopeful now," she told reporters in her first interview since she was notified of her sentence Dec. 22. "I know I am in good hands. Many friends have recommended Dr. Mencia and I know I could do no better for an attorney."

Backseat Driver Has Legal Status

Baltimore (AP)—The back-seat driver is a traditional villainess in cartoon and anecdote, with hardly anyone speaking up for wife (or mother-in-law, as the case may be) except the lady herself.

But a recent decision by a Maryland judge seems to give the little woman a new right to the last word.

Judge Stephen R. Collins of the state Court of Appeals has this to say in defense of the back-seat driver:

"It is as much his (or, presumably, her) duty as that of the driver to take observation of dangers and to avoid them if practicable. In other words, he is required to exercise ordinary care to avoid injury."

Escanaba Resident Searching For Man Who Gave Up Search

Through the efforts of the Associated Press, Mrs. John Redstrom, 1316 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, is attempting to locate Ephraim Anderson, the 68-year-old Swedish farmer who just completed a fruitless five-week search for relatives in the United States and is returning home.

Mr. Anderson, who hoped to find relatives in Chicago or Manhattan, had saved up his money for 23 years since his father's death to make a trip to this country to search for relatives.

Well, he made the trip and procured the help of the Travelers Aid and friends, but no relatives could be found.

And then Mrs. Redstrom, the former Kristina Hed, of Yunesko, Sweden, read the item in the Escanaba Daily Press yesterday about Ephraim Anderson giving up his search.

She immediately told her daughter, Mrs. Cecil LaCombe, 1107 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, that she believed he was her first cousin. Twenty-two years ago in Sweden, she said she had seen her first cousin, Ephraim Anderson, and this man may be he.

At least, she is determined to find out. So, the search to find the man who has given up his search is underway.

The AP had better hurry. Mrs. Redstrom said, because Ephraim is scheduled to sail from New York Friday.

COST CONTROL IDEAS STUDIED BY CONGRESS

Banking members of the Senate Banking Committee tore into the testimony of Secretary of Labor Schwelbentz. His support of standby wage-price control power prompted the attack.

In addition to another appeal for his anti-inflation program, Mr. Truman's message included a defense of his $40-a-person income tax cut proposal, to be counterbalanced by a $3,200,000,000 a year hike in corporation taxes.

Republicans and some Democrats already have assailed this suggestion and the GOP leadership is going ahead with plans for an overall tax cut of perhaps $5,600,000,000.

Mr. Truman also set up new employment and production goals in his report today and renewed his call for broader social security and conservation programs.

Labor Board Takes Over In Printers' Strike At Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has intervened in the seven-week old strike by more than 1,500 AFL printers against Chicago's six major daily newspapers.

A complaint issued by the NLRB regional office of the NLRB yesterday charged Local 16, Chicago Typographical Union and its parent organization, the AFL International Union, with unfair labor practices.

The complaint, based on charges made by the Chicago newspaper Publishers Association, was the first direct intervention of the NLRB in the strike, which started Nov. 24. However, testimony in connection with the work stoppage is being taken at a hearing here after charges had been filed against the ITU by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

A hearing on the complaint was set for Feb. 9.

Fool-Proof Plane Saves 8th Graders And Pilot, Age 13

Troy, O., Jan. 14 (AP)—A runaway flight in a "borrowed" private plane ended happily for four eighth grade truants yesterday, probably because the ship was what the 13-year-old pilot's father described as a "fool proof type."

With never a flying lesson in his life, young Jimmy Hartzell took the plane, owned by his father, Robert N. Hartzell, president of a propeller manufacturing firm, aloft and flew his three companions around Central Ohio for about two hours.

Air sickness, on the part of two members of the party, caused Jimmy to decide to land, his father told newsmen. He chose a cornfield near neighboring Sidney and made an almost perfect landing. Hartzell said that the ship's "fool proof" construction was responsible.

"Otherwise," he declared, "there's no telling what might have happened."

HIT BY FLAMING CAN

Detroit (AP)—Struck by a flaming can of gasoline hurled by a motorist, Joseph Petrimoulx, 28-year-old filling station worker, was rushed to Redford Receiving hospital with second and third degree burns. Police said the motorist had been pouring fuel into his carburetor when the gasoline can caught fire. He hurried it away, and it hit Petrimoulx, working nearby.

COLLAPSES IN COURT

AUTO DEALERS GIVEN WARNING

Must Present Title To
Secretary Of State
After Car Sale

Dan C. VanWagner, field representative of the motor vehicle division of the secretary of state's office, Lansing, today warned automobile sales dealers that, in compliance with state law, presentation must be made of title for reassignment to the vehicle division, after a sale is made.

VanWagner cited a recent case in Menominee county, when a plea of nolle contendere (no contest) was entered by the owner of a motor company, on charges of violating the motor vehicle law. The owner, fined $10 and $4 costs, was charged with selling a car on Oct. 24 and failing to present the title for reassignment to the state vehicle department.

Gun Failure Saves Woman In Rockford Love Affair Killing

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 14 (AP)—A witness to two slayings in a frustrated love affair told a jury in the murder trial yesterday that the defendant also placed the gun against her head and pulled the trigger but that the weapon only clicked.

Mrs. Gertrude Anderson, whose son, Vernon, 28, and his father-in-law, Grant Muhrlin, 52, of Northport, Mich., were shot to death in the younger Anderson's farm home last Nov. 7, testified that Glenn Marsh, 27-year-old farmer, knocked her down with the apparently empty pistol after shooting the two men.

Marsh, who surrendered to officers two days after the shooting, has admitted the slaying and said they were the outgrowth of a frustrated secret romance with Anderson's wife, Katherine, mother of three.

Mrs. Anderson related that she and Katherine fled to a bedroom but that Marsh followed, grabbed her arm and put the gun against her head and pulled the trigger.

Marsh then forced Katherine to accompany him on a 100-mile automobile flight. She escaped when he stopped at a gasoline service station.

No Evidence Found Of Bootleg Whisky Flow Into Michigan

Lansing, Jan. 14 (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission reported today it had no evidence scarce liquors were being smuggled into Michigan, but it ordered a close scrutiny of all Detroit area licenses to see if any tax-free brands actually were slipping across the state border illegally.

Sixty-five commission investigators were ordered to check every liquor license in Detroit and the commission obtained the help of 120 men from the Detroit police clean-up squad.

The commission conceded it had received reports that scarce Scotch and Canadian whiskies were being bootlegged into Detroit from Chicago at premium prices.
